Senate in Drive to Complete Action On Training Bill

Barkley Predicts Vote Before Conclusion of Day's Session

Washington — (P) — The senate drove down the home stretch today toward a decision on conscription, concentrating immediate attention on three substitute proposals which must be acted upon before a final vote can be taken on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill.

Scheduling the second night session of the week, Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) predicted passage of the measure—in a form calling for immediate conscription of manpower—before the day's end.

The majority leader told reporters he was confident the senate would reject by "comfortable" margins all three proposals to postpone conscription and send the Burke-Wadsworth measure to the house in the form it stood when debate began today.

Working until 9 o'clock last night, while packed galleries looked on, the chamber wrote into the measure a dozen amendments, some only technical and clarifying, but others that imposed restrictions on the use of men conscripted for service.

Limited Service
Chief of these was an amendment by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) to limit the service of peacetime conscripts to the western hemisphere. The chamber voted down, 39 to 32, a proposal by Senator Clark (D-Mo.) to narrow the service area to the continental United States and American possessions.

Previously, the senate adopted a compromise proposal by Lodge which fixed 900,000 as the maximum number of conscripts to be in training at any one peacetime period.

It adopted an amendment by Senator Gurney (R-S.D.) striking out a provision authorizing the national labor relations board to institute court proceedings to force the re-employment of conscript who had completed the year's training specified in the bill.

It provided for civil court trials of draft "dodgers" instead of hearings before military tribunals and voted to prohibit any person connected with the military establishment from becoming a member of a local draft board.

House Committee Acts
Lining up quickly with the senate, the house military committee took similar action today on the maximum number and re-employment provisions.

Without audible objections, the senate wrote into the measure an amendment by Barkley to authorize the appropriation of funds to carry out the terms of the bill, thus clearing the way for quick congressional action to provide the money needed.

With these and other amendments out of the way, Barkley pronounced the bill "nearly ready" for the final vote, except for action on the three substitutes.

These all proposed delays, in one form or another, of the actual induction into military service of the young men from 21 through 30 years old who would be required to register under terms of the Burke-Wadsworth measure.

Senator Maloney (D-Conn.) proposed that one-year voluntary enlistments be tried until Jan. 1. If these failed to fill the army's quota, conscription would go into effect.

Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) advocated in his substitute that conscription be postponed until congress should declare a national emergency.

A third substitute sponsored by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) would set up a system of voluntary enlistments linked with the voluntary training of college students.

Wisconsin's senators split on the vote by which the senate rejected the amendment by Senator Lodge to limit service under the compulsory military bill to men from 21 through 24 years of age. Senator Wiley voted for the amendment and Senator LaFollette against it.

Probe Shooting Of Locktender

Condition of Man Hurt in Accident Described as 'Good'

Federal government officials opened an investigation yesterday afternoon of the accident in which William Carey, 61, tender at the Fourth lock was seriously hurt by a charge from a deck cannon aboard the Johanna, power boat owned by the Appleton Boat club.

Carey's condition was described as "good" at St. Elizabeth hospital today.

Raymond P. Dohr, district attorney, said this morning that the shooting apparently was an accident and was inclined to accept the explanation offered by Joseph Schiltz, pilot, that the cord leading from the pilot house to the salute cannon might have become fouled.

B. J. Hastings, Milwaukee, federal district attorney, and three government engineers were in Appleton today to investigate the shooting because it occurred on federal controlled waters and a federal employee was involved. The government men and others involved re-constructed the accident at the Fourth lock this morning.

Carey was hit by 13 pellets from the 10-gauge shotgun shell, one of the pellets entering a lung. The gun fired, apparently accidentally, just as a deck hand was ready to cast off and leave the lock. The cannon, usually loaded with blanks, was used to attract attention of bridegrooms when the boat's whistle failed to arouse them.

4 Children Share Chrysler Estate
Mineola, N. Y. — (P) — Four children of the late Walter P. Chrysler, automobile manufacturer, share equally in his fortune, believed to amount to more than $1,000,000, under terms of his will filed today in Nassau county surrogate's court.

Chrysler died Aug. 18 at his Great Neck estate. His will listed real estate "upwards of $1,000,000" and personal property "upwards of $200,000." The four children are Mrs. Thelma Chrysler Foy, Mrs. Bernice Chrysler Garbisch, Walter P. Chrysler, Jr., and Jack Chrysler. They will share the bequest left to Chrysler's wife, Mrs. Della V. Chrysler who died two years ago.

Great Britain Asked To Keep Fliers From Crossing Swiss Zones
Bern, Switzerland — (P) — The Swiss government today asked Great Britain to "immediately and scrupulously" enforce orders given to the Royal Air force to cease alleged continued violations of Swiss territory in flights to Italy.

The request was made in a note handed to the British foreign minister.

The Swiss government met early today to discuss the "repeated violations" of Swiss territory after a night of flights across Switzerland, presumably by British planes, in which a number of persons were injured by dropping fragments of anti-aircraft shells fired at the high-flying craft.

These violations were "intentional," the Swiss high command charged.

Heil Wants Roach to Stay on Treasury Job

Madison — Inferentially repudiating the request of one of the leading men of his administration, Governor Julius Heil last night said he had no intention of allowing John W. Roach, chief of the state beverage tax division, to leave the state service.

Roach's dismissal on grounds of incompetence had recently been demanded by August Frey, director of the bureau of research and one of Heil's oldest friends and political advisors, after a quarrel between Roach and Frey about the purchase of liquor revenue stamps.

Characterizing Roach as an efficient and "dynamic public servant," Heil said that "like some individuals he gets too ambitious and gets into quarrels."

"He is doing a good job," he continued. "Just because he got into a little fight with Frey doesn't mean anything. I'm here to produce peace."

The Frey-Roach spat started about six weeks ago after it was charged that Roach furnished the information through which a Madison newspaper accused Frey of holding up a liquor stamp order on the eve of the new federal defense tax legislation which cost Wisconsin liquor dealers many thousands of dollars.

Frey started an investigation, and after much dispute about Frey's authority to demand possession of beverage tax division records, he laid on Heil's desk a report which recommended his summary dismissal.

Because Roach, as a treasury official, is out of the reach of the executive office, Frey suggested that the governor prevail upon State

Cudahy Urges Strong Nation
Los Angeles — (P) — The United States ambassador to Belgium, John Cudahy, believes that "it is a desperate fact, but an undeniable fact, that this country must, in a military world—whether we like it or not—become a military nation."

Cudahy told the Veterans of Foreign Wars national encampment that the United States would not prepare for war but "to preserve peace and to fight for peace."

"We all know that public opinion would never tolerate an aggressive war," he continued, "just as we know the American people harbor no imperialistic designs—and like the people of Belgium ask only to be left in peace."

"The people of Belgium did not want war, did not expect it, yet war did come like a flash of lightning. You know the consequences."

Speaking of the American way of living, Cudahy said: "The people and only the people are charged with the ultimate responsibility of our government. By this test our democratic institutions will survive and march on—or go down and out before the march of dictators."

Hay Fever Sufferers In War on Rag-Weed
Duluth, Minn. — (P) — Hay fever sufferers of the nation are becoming increasingly irritated by thing called rag-weed and at the opening session of their national convention here last night labeled it a "national menace."

Drawn to this northern resort city because of the relief offered by its pollen-free air, hay fever victims from 32 states called upon the federal government to take a hand in the eradication, not only of rag-weed, but of all "noxious and harmful weeds."

In a resolution addressed to the secretary of agriculture and to the federal bureau of public roads, the Hay Fever Club of America, Inc., urged that "immediate steps be taken leading to the early eradication of noxious weeds from public highways of the nation."

Officers Throughout State Keeping Watch For Escaped Convict
Wausau — (P) — Peace officers throughout Wisconsin were asked by state prison authorities today to be on the lookout for Felix Laratis, 20, who with another convict, escaped Sunday night from the prison farm at Atholstone.

Laratis, whose home is in Chicago, was serving a sentence of one to two years for automobile theft. He was sentenced from Wood county.

Meanwhile, Raymond Tauschek, 25, of Marshfield, who fled the farm with Laratis, was back in the penitentiary here. He was captured near Green Bay two hours after his escape. Tauschek, sentenced from Wausau, is serving five to 10 years for assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to rob.

Skidmore and 3 Others Dropped As Defendants

U. S. Quashes Charges In Connection With Johnson Tax Case

Chicago — (P) — The government dismissed William R. Skidmore and three other defendants today at the opening of trial of a case in which they and others were charged with conspiring in the alleged evasion of $1,867,664 in income taxes of William R. Johnson.

Totally unexpected, the dismissal of Skidmore came after a brief discussion of several motions between counsel and Federal Judge John P. Barnes when the big case was called.

The others dismissed were William Goldstein, counsel for Skidmore; Orrie Alexander, a bookkeeper and Miss Bernice Downey, an employee in a currency exchange which the government alleged handled gambling funds.

Earle C. Hurley, assistant prosecutor, moved for the dismissals. A few minutes later United States Attorney William J. Campbell gave reporters a statement saying he had instructed Hurley and the other assistants to dismiss the quartet of defendants.

Faces Other Charges
Campbell said the action was taken after a full discussion among the prosecution staff of the "available evidence" concerning the four.

Later Campbell said the government dismissed Skidmore because he felt it had "a very strong case" against Skidmore in other indictments charging that, individually, he evaded $210,117 in taxes on his 1933-1937 income and evaded $293,648 in taxes on his 1938 income, and that those cases "might be jeopardized" by keeping Skidmore in the present conspiracy case.

As to the other three dismissals Campbell said "draw your own conclusions." Federal building re-

British Economist Answers Wheeler
Washington — (P) — Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Sir George Paish, British economist disagreed today as to just what Sir George said about his connection with the entry of the United States into the world war.

Wheeler's account, which brought demands in the senate yesterday for Sir George's expulsion from the country, was to this effect:

Sir George visited him at his office a few days ago. During the conversation, the economist asserted:

"I am responsible for getting this country into the last war and I intend to get it into this one."

Sir George, on the other hand, said this was what happened:

He called on Senator Wheeler. In the course of their talk he mentioned that, as a British financial adviser during the World war, he had "placed information at the disposal of my government." This information subsequently was turned over to the United States by the British government and its character was such, Sir George asserted, that it influenced the decision of the United States to enter the conflict.

Testifies He Feared For Life in Giving Testimony in Trial
New York — (P) — Isidore Schwartz testified today that he feared he "might be murdered" for linking Chicago mobsters with George Sealise, former president of the building service employees international union who is on trial charged with the theft of $60,087 of union funds.

Schwartz, an organizer for Local 32 of the building service international and a former Sealise aide, testified yesterday that Sealise's elevation to the presidency of the international union in 1937 resulted from conferences with Frank Diamond, Charles Fiasechetti and the late Mike Carozzo, three alleged members of a "Chicago Mob," in a Chicago restaurant.

Renews Plea for Aid To Disabled Veterans
Green Bay — (P) — Lewis J. Murphy, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, told the organization's convention yesterday that "our legislative program should be trimmed down to a concise statement of the up-to-the-minute needs of the disabled veteran."

Murphy, making his annual report, reiterated the plea for relief for disabled veterans.

The commander reported that the organization's membership on June 30, 1940, totaled 41,454, a decrease of 616 from the previous year's figure. There are now 16,021 life members, he added, double the number of a year ago.

English Bombers Raid Reich, Italy

Heavy Damage Reported to Fascist Plants; Nazis in New Air Attacks

London — (P) — Heavy bomber blows which left Italian industrial plants shattered and smoking from the effects of tons of explosives were reported by Britain today, harassed herself by night-long German raids and fighting off new daylight air attacks.

The Fiat airplane, tank and motor works at Turin and the Magneto Marelli factory which makes electric equipment there, and Sesto San Giovanni, near Milan, were raided by R. A. F. pilots who made the long double flight over France and the Alps with six tons of bombs, the air ministry announced.

For 40 minutes bombs rained on the Turin objectives, the air ministry said, setting strings of fires and bright blue and white explosions. Great clouds of white smoke were sent drifting upward to 6,000 feet at Sesto San Giovanni, a communique added.

Air raids also were reported

Says Agriculture Is Democracy Bulwark

Falls City, Neb. — (P) — Agriculture is better prepared than any other industry to help bulwark democracy in a war-ridden world, Claude R. Wickard, newly-appointed secretary of agriculture, asserted in an address prepared for delivery today.

"Through the farmer's foresight, with the help of the farm program," he said, "the nation today has an abundance of those farm products which are as essential in war-time as the guns and munitions."

He came here to speak before a four-state farm rally in the first prepared address since his appointment to succeed Henry A. Wallace. Democratic vice presidential nominee whose policies Wickard pledged to "continue and strengthen."

A strong American agriculture, Wickard declared, is essential "if we are to meet the challenge of aggressor nations."

"To let agriculture go through another period of farm strikes, penny sales and farm foreclosures comparable to that of the late twenties and early thirties could well be fatal in this day of economic wars. Aggressor powers seek such weaknesses as a means of penetration. A vital part of our national defense is guarding against such weaknesses."

He pointed out that European blockades are causing "a severe loss in our export trade" and that it is impossible to predict "how much more serious this 'blackout of markets' may get."

"A totalitarian victory would almost certainly see all Europe organized into a single, huge bargaining agency. If we may judge by past experiences, this agency will be concerned with the economic which it trades. Military domination of the countries with food is but a step from there."

Hungary Says Bomber Shot Down Today

Moscow — (P) — Russian officials and Rumania diplomatic sources here said tonight they had received no information on reports in Bucharest and Budapest of a Russian-Rumanian border clash.

Budapest — (P) — The Hungarian foreign office announced today that a plane shot down a Hungarian bomber over Hungarian soil this morning and diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest reported a bloody border clash between Rumanian and Russian troops.

The Bucharest reports, neither confirmed nor denied officially in the Rumanian capital, said the border clash started Sunday morning and caused hundreds of dead on both sides and the loss of at least two fighting planes.

The reports of clashes caused a sharp increase in southeastern Europe's tension over negotiations between Hungary and Rumania attempting to settle Hungary's claims for the province of Transylvania.

Bucharest was full of reports, which officials refused to confirm or deny, that there had been encounters between Hungarian and Rumanian planes over the disputed province of Transylvania.

The fighting, which the dispatches said occurred just north of Dorohoi, in northern Moldavia, was reported resumed yesterday.

300 Rumanians Killed
A foreign military attaché at Bucharest who wrote the dispatches estimated that more than 300 Rumanian soldiers were slain.

Just two months ago Rumania bowed to a Russian ultimatum, agreeing to cede to the soviet union Bessarabia and northern Bucovina. As the Russians marched in early in July to take over their gains there were clashes between the retreating Rumanians and soviet troops.

Dorohoi is close to the new border formed by the Bessarabia and Bucovina cessions.

The fighting was said to have occurred when soviet forces crossed the border into Rumania. They were understood to have penetrated deeply before being forced back. The clash was said to have involved Rumanian troops being sent to Transylvania.

Four Russian warplanes which flew over Rumanian territory were attacked by six Rumanian pursuit ships, two of which were shot down, these sources said.

See Reich Action
Berlin — (P) — Informed sources said tonight Germany might arbitrate in the Hungarian-Rumanian territorial dispute over Transylvania, possibly with Italian aid.

The long-drawn-out Turnu-Severin negotiations are fringing the axis partners, who repeatedly have acknowledged their interest in a quick settlement for the sake of appeasement in the Balkans, these sources said.

Negotiations at Turnu-Severin, Rumania, over Hungary's demand that her world war-lost province be returned broke down last week, after which both countries stepped up their military preparedness. Reports in Budapest today, however, said the discussions would be resumed.

Arguments Will be Resumed Next Week in Pool Funds Dispute
Green Bay — (P) — Arguments will be resumed in circuit court here next week on whether impounded funds paid to the Wisconsin Co-ops should be considered in the general assets of the pool or whether the money is due solely to farmer-members of the Wrightstown and Shirley cooperatives.

The court deferred the hearing yesterday to give other creditors a chance to be heard.

The action centers around whether funds of between $5,000 and $8,000 should be considered in the general assets of the pool or whether the money is due solely to farmer-members of the Wrightstown and Shirley cooperatives.

Refusal of L. E. Duclon, receiver for the pool, to release the funds to the farmers has led to a petition for his removal. The Wrightstown and Shirley cooperatives charge that Duclon was given a position as general manager of the pool through the influence of the First Wisconsin National bank, a large creditor.

Duclon, in refusing to release the funds, contended that the Wrightstown farmers had pledged the milk to secure a debt to the pool later assigned to the bank.

Action on the petition for his removal has been deferred for a week.

Lectures For Housewives

Group of Westchester, N. Y. club women announce these topics for discussion: Home buying. Quality. Durability. Usefulness. Home beauty. Home comfort. This lacks definition. Which Home Beauty is to be discussed, wife or husband? From whom do they expect the longer durability? And which of the two promises to be of greater usefulness? These are pertinent questions. As to the home comfort, that may be secured by consistent use of The Post-Crescent classified want-ads. This one was very useful.

Fogs, Tides, Shallows Could Hinder Invasion

Mackenzie Inclined to Doubt Nazi Claim That Only 'Preliminaries' Have Been Held

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

That was rather a surprising statement by the semi-official Dienst Aus Deutschland of Berlin which characterized all that has happened thus far in the battle of Britain as "preliminaries."

The preliminaries at last are finished, says Dienst. Nazi Germany has achieved supremacy over England, and now begins the planned destruction of industrial plants essential to war.

Nobody but the sponsors of this statement know whether it is a 'business double' or just another piece of propaganda in the war of nerves. Certainly it finds support in the heavy Nazi raids over the industrial area of the English midlands the past two nights. However, I take the liberty of believing that Dienst could have given us a much more illuminating view of the position had it been permitted to do so.

Not for one moment do I doubt that the Nazi aeroplanes are capable of unleashing many times the hell which already has been raining on the Britons in the "preliminaries" since the direct attack started on June 1, more than two months ago. There is no doubt, either, that Herr Hitler intends to employ this vast aerial power and—if it proves feasible—to accompany it by invasion.

Still, in my view the warfare which has been going on has been more than spade work. The fuhrer set out for a quick kill—and more than two months is a long time for a man in a hurry. In short, it strikes me that circumstances over which Hitler has had no control have hampered his blitzkrieg plans and nullified some of his operations.

British Take Offensive Among these circumstances we certainly may list the strength shown by the British not only in defense but in offense, and the threat of trouble in the Balkans at Germany's back-door. We are entitled also to ask for more support of the contention that the Nazis have achieved supremacy over the English in the air.

That Germany has superiority in air strength there is no question, but "supremacy" is another thing, for it denotes control of the air. The German superiority hasn't prevented persistent British raids over German territory in recent weeks. Also, only yesterday London listed 1,101 German raiders brought down since June 18, and more than 800 since August 8, which was the first day of the Nazi mass attack. That doesn't sound like German "control."

There is another aspect of the beginning of this new phase of warfare which is highly important. That is bound up in the proverb that time and tide wait for no man, not even a conqueror like Herr Hitler. He is getting perilously close to the bad weather season which will render military operations most difficult if not impossible.

Anything can happen in the way of weather after the beginning of September, although the first half of the month generally is good. Sometimes the whole month is all right, but October means the start of bad days. Rain, fog and wind seriously hamper flying, and the always tricky English channel kicks up far more trouble than any invading force would want to deal with.

Those English Fogs One of Hitler's worst enemies will be the fogs, and those are common over this whole area from October to March, inclusive. And English fogs are the real thing, sometimes blotting out everything for several days on end.

Apart from the weather the channel itself presents a formidable barrier to invasion. This whole long stretch of water is filled with tidal streams which shift and squirm and turn so that only a great expert can figure them out. The comparatively few people who have been able to swim the channel have done so only through the advice of men who have spent their lives studying the tides and currents. The winds have considerable effect on the tidal streams, especially in the straits of Dover, which are only 22 miles wide.

To cap all this, the English waters close to shore are only a few feet deep in many places and would represent a terrific problem for an invading fleet.

There is still a further catch in the thing for the Nazis. It isn't enough to be able to pick a few days of good weather for the attempted invasion with an army. They must figure that once they have landed in England they must keep boats crossing the channel with supplies and reinforcements. Thus the closer they come to the time of settled bad weather the greater will be their problem of invasion.

Two Men Fined

Two men paid fines Monday at the Appleton police station for violations of the city's parking ordinances. Al Giesen, 217 W. Former High School Youths' Club Continues Hi-Y Activities

Unwilling to see participation in high school and Hi-Y activities slip into fond memories, about 20 youths graduated from Appleton High school within the last two years who have not gone to college are meeting regularly and taking educational trips through local industries and into nearby areas of the state.

Six months ago about 10 older fellows, all leading Hi-Y members when in high school, organized the Phalanx club and made plans for an educational program as well as for social activities.

The initial project undertaken by the club was a survey of facilities for leisure time activities for Appleton young people of 10 to 25 years of age. The club listed all the activities in which young people can participate in Appleton and enlisted the aid of 40 other young people to aid them in gathering information.

permaners' manager, and Mrs. W. E. Rogers, Wisconsin bird authority. Trips taken by the club during the summer have included a drive to the Peninsula State park, a visit to Camp Onaway, Y. M. C. A. camp at the Chain of Lakes, Waupaca, and a tour through Washington park, Milwaukee.

Nearing completion is a project which will supply scrapbooks for "shut-ins." Club members are collecting cuttings from popular magazines and assembling them into scrapbooks containing 100 or more pages for the books are being painted by George Acker. When completed, the books will be distributed to hospitals and other institutions and a rotation of the books maintained.

War Situation Today

Italy and Berlin Admit British Are Striking Back With Raids

British bombers attacked both Germany and Italy in far-ranging sorties before dawn today, and the official British radio asserted that government buildings along the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin—where Adolf Hitler's chancellery is situated—have been among the targets bombed.

In London, the air ministry reported that the royal air force "delivered a successful attack upon a number of important military objectives" in the axis territories. Six tons of bombs were dumped in 40 minutes on Italian industrial targets, the air ministry said.

The Italian high command acknowledged that British raiders scored hits on the great Fiat plane and tank factory at Turin and at tacked other points in the face of "violent air and anti-aircraft reaction." One British bomber was reported shot down in an attempted attack at Milan, in northern Italy.

Nazi warplanes flocked back over Britain this morning, renewing almost night-long assaults which kept London's millions awake during a six-hour raid.

Berlin's 4,000,000 residents experienced their second air-raid alarm in two days, lasting 40 minutes, and Nazi authorities acknowledged that one high-flying British plane sped over the capital. They said seven others were turned back by anti-aircraft fire at Brandenburg, 40 miles west of Berlin.

The lone raider sighted over the German capital dropped no bombs, Nazis said.

Hitler's high command, reporting on yesterday's greatly intensified aerial warfare, said British troop concentrations in south England, airports and the big naval base at Portsmouth were bombed.

Revised claims by the belligerents on yesterday's operations in the air war were:

British: 46 German planes shot down against 15 British lost; German: 61 British planes shot down and nine destroyed on the ground against 20 German lost.

In the Balkans another mass migration of a population caught by the axis "new order" in Europe was under way. Thousands of Rumanian peasants and townsfolk who for 27 years have lived in southern Dobruja were hurrying back to the "old kingdom." Bulgarian reoccupation of the province has been agreed upon tentatively by Rumania under Nazi pressure.

Food Shortage but Plenty of Entertainment in Prison Camp

BY CHARLES S. FOLTZ, JR. Geneva Switzerland—(AP)—"Short on food and water but long on entertainment" is the description by an American of a German internment camp where he was held for three months.

The former prisoner is Alfred Raymond of Chicago, one of the organizers of the American volunteer ambulance corps which served with the French army.

Raymond and three comrades—Murray Shipley of Cincinnati; Louis Wehrle of Ft. Wayne, Ind.; and Marcus Clark of Hollywood, Calif.—were released from the camp near Dresden last Friday and reached Geneva yesterday. They had been prisoners since they were captured May 17 at Montcornet, northern France.

"Our camp, which was divided into three parts, contained 18,000 French, Polish and Belgian officers and men," Raymond said. He said the entire camp depended for its water supply on a town of 6,000 inhabitants and water therefore was seldom.

"We were seldom thirsty," he continued, "but almost always hungry."

"Daily rations were a fifth of a loaf of bread, small rations of soup, one vegetable and sometimes coffee. That wasn't enough for active men, but I suppose the Germans were doing the best they could."

"Our section of the camp held 6,000 French, who, with German help, organized an elaborate educational program which developed in a virtual university."

"We had lectures by French officers who in civil life were experts in their own fields—ranging from

Natural Gas Firms Request State Permits

Commission Must Decide Whether It Has Jurisdiction

Madison—(AP)—The public service commission had under advisement today the applications for operating authority of the Wisconsin Natural Gas company and the Independent Natural Gas company.

Representatives of the two firms and other interested individuals were allowed 15 days to file briefs or memoranda following a hearing yesterday when testimony was introduced purporting to show that savings would result from the use of natural gas.

Upon receipt of the briefs the commission's first task will be to decide whether it will take jurisdiction or surrender control to the federal government.

If it decides it has regulatory powers over the firms, it will schedule a joint hearing with the federal power commission. The two bodies will then consider the question of public convenience and necessity.

Urgo Commission Action Bert Vanderveelde, representing the Wisconsin Public Service corporation and the Milwaukee Gas Light company, and Walter M. Polakoff, appearing for the United Mine Workers labor union, urged the commission to assume jurisdiction.

"The commission should take jurisdiction," Vanderveelde said, "because Wisconsin follows a non-duplicating policy in the public utility field. If two or three natural gas companies come into the state, the rates for consumers will be much higher because of duplicating services."

Claiming the savings mentioned by company officials would "probably buy one or two ice cream sodas per family a month," Polakoff asserted use of natural gas would "jeopardize the jobs of some 1,700 gas workers in the state, their $3,000,000 annual payroll, as well as many million dollars invested in gas manufacturing equipment."

business management to architecture. "One of the largest classes was the English language class."

Raymond said the Germans apparently were speeding up delivery of mail to prisoners, although "naturally everything is censored."

All the prisoners pooled what news they received in letters from France into a bulletin which was read at each night's assembly, he said.

Questioned by reporters yesterday, He indicated plainly that he was willing to drop the matter without further ado. He also indicated broadly that Frey's investigation of the state conservation department, a fertile source of political agitation and criticism of the administration since it was begun several months ago, probably will be shelved.

Replying to inquiries relating to his campaign, the governor said: "I am planning no active campaign during the primary. If I did, I might be called to attest to my stewardship."

He referred to a routine daily insertion in a Madison paper which relates the number of days he has been absent from the executive office.

Londoners Dance as Hitler's Raiders Rob Them of Sleep

BY DWIGHT L. PITKIN

London—(AP)—Robbed of their sleep by Adolf Hitler's nocturnal bombers, thousands of Londoners danced and sang until almost dawn today, ignoring intermittent sounds of gunfire and the drone of airplane motors overhead.

The air-raid alarm came as homebodies were retiring and "as west end theaters were thronged with amusement seekers. When the German bombers kept sweeping over in relays and the all-clear signal failed to sound, many decided to make a night of it.

In most theaters the audiences stayed on when the shows were over and responded with zest to stage managers' suggestions for impromptu concerts.

At the Hippodrome, Prime Minister Winston Churchill's son-in-law, the comedian Vic Oliver, organized an informal "songfest."

At Prince's theater Arthur Riscoe called for "partners for the girls," and generals, Royal Air Force officers and naval men stormed the stage. Riscoe said it "was more like a New Year's party than an air raid."

Life of the Party Aircraftman H. Kapinsky of the Royal Canadian Air Force, who was selling shoes in Cleveland, Ohio, six months ago to earn money for a musical education, was the life of the party at the Hippodrome, where he got a chance to display his tenor voice by singing "Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Family groups had singing parties or played cards in air-raid shelters. Many persons caught away from home when the sirens shrilled their warnings went without supper because the large restaurants closed their doors during the raid. Regulations compelled saloons to close also, but cafes and milk bars remained open and did a rushing business.

Hundreds, defying possible danger, remained on street corners to watch the spectacle as searchlights and bursts from anti-aircraft guns lighted the skies. Many walked leisurely home when they were unable to get transportation.

Buses and taxis reappeared as if by magic when the all-clear signal finally was sounded at 3:40 a. m.

Taxis Travel Fast These London taxicabs, incidentally, may look old-fashioned to Americans, but they can go places in a hurry in an air-raid.

I had a half-hour's ride in one from a hotel in the western residential district to Fleet street while the raid was at its height. Whenever we came to anything that looked like a military objective the driver, who seemed to know his way by instinct in the blackout, pushed the accelerator down to the floor and took the corners on two wheels.

When we reached my destination he seemed to lose all interest in speed and sauntered off to the nearest shop for a cup of tea—although the sky still was bright with pyrotechnics.

Henry Jackson, an Associated Press employee, was in a bus en route to the office when the air-raid warning sounded. Escorted by the bus conductor, playing a harmonica, the passengers marched off to an air-raid shelter singing "Tipperary" and "Pack Up Your Troubles in the Old Kit Bag."

They continued the journey when the conductor announced "Jerry seems to have buzzed off," but it took Jackson five hours to complete a 10-mile journey that normally takes an hour.

instances of damage to private property were reported. But for the first time the Germans used the mass raid at night, sending 40 bombers against one northeast town, where they demolished two shops and killed at least two persons.

Berlin—(AP)—British troop concentrations in southern England, airports and the British naval base of Portsmouth were bombed by German air raiders, the high command reported today.

The communiqué, covering yesterday's air operations, said Nazi raiders also returned at night and attacked the Plymouth naval base, Cornwall airport, Coventry, airplane works at Birmingham and port facilities at Hull and Newcastle.

Britain, it said, lost a total of 70 planes yesterday—51 shot down in air battles and nine destroyed on the ground. It acknowledged German losses of 21.

Although British air attacks at several places within Germany were acknowledged and the second air alarm within as many days cost Berlin's inhabitants another night's sleep, the high command said damage was "unimportant."

Only one of a squadron of British planes was able to reach Berlin, it was said. The raid, however, provoked an angry warning that any "criminal attack" on non-military objectives by British planes would be repaid by Nazi bombers.

He warned against crushing labor between the wheels of an accelerated military program. "We must steadfastly guard against the attempt to reduce labor in this country to serfdom as was done in Europe—to satisfy solely the brute war," he stated.

Loot Church, Store Liquor Under Altar

Columbia, S. C.—(AP)—Officials of a church here want something done about it. J. W. Buchan told police that everything from dishes to plumbing fixtures had been stolen from the church.

Worst of all, he said, someone had stored a quantity of liquor under the altar.

Who's Who in County Politics

(Editor's note—The following is one of a series of articles on the men and women who are directing political activity in Outagamie county. Some of them hold no public office, nor do they seek office, while others are office holders and are candidates this year. These articles are confined to the men and women who have been political leaders first, and candidates and office holders second. Their personal reasons for being in politics are given in the articles.)

T. E. McGillan was unanimously elected chairman of the Outagamie County Progressive club in February of this year. He has had 30 years of experience in political affairs.

He is a student of the elder La Follette's political philosophy and a great admirer of Senator Robert M. La Follette and Philip F. La Follette, former governor.

Under Mr. McGillan's leadership a full Progressive ticket is being presented in the coming election for the first time in the history of the county.

Says he is "not an extremist" in politics and that his political philosophy is based on the six fundamental principles of the Progressive platform.

Mr. McGillan attended De Paul university, Chicago, receiving bachelor and master degrees, and served as dean of that university's economy and public speaking departments. His forefathers settled in the town of Center 91 years ago. Mackville deriving its name from the pioneer McGillan family. He is a member of the local A. F. of L. unit.

Sewage Plant Costs Lower This Summer

Treatment costs at the sewage disposal plant this summer will likely be less than in any other summer, according to Clarence O. Baetz, superintendent.

The high water this summer resulted in an unusual amount of oxygen in the water, Baetz said, which greatly reduced the amount of chemicals needed.

Park Expenditures Are $1,980 in July

Park expenditures for July were $1,980, with receipts $1,302, according to a report received by Mayor John Goodland, Jr.

Expense items were labor, $1,323; material $307; utilities $61; motor equipment $207; miscellaneous $84. The park budget showed a balance of $7,968 on July 31.

Board Will Consider Lime Sludge Discharge

When board of public works holds its next session, one of the matters to be discussed will be a request of the water department to discharge lime sludge into the intercepting sewer system. The water commission chairman and superintendents of the water and sewage plants will confer with the board about this request.

Many Restrictions Put on Normal Life at Nazi Capital

(Editor's note: Next Sunday will mark the first anniversary of the European war. During this period many changes have come to life in Berlin. The following story gives an interesting picture of what it means to live in the German capital today.)

BY ANGUS M. THUERNER

Berlin —(T)— Nearly a year of war has put the check-coin on normal civilian life in Germany.

Restrictions necessary for the successful continuation of war activities pop out at you from the most unexpected corners.

First of all, there's that blackout. Really most persons would feel sort of ashamed and theatrical after spending 12 months in the evening dark—to have to step out under a brilliant street lamp.

Eyes have become so accustomed to struggling around in the dark that the business in phosphorescent buttons has dropped off to nil.

Then there is the taxi situation. Woe betide you if you get into a taxi without an iron clad, double-barreled reason. Third feet don't count. Rushing over to see a sick aunt might get you by—maybe, maybe.

Now considering foods in restaurants—there is caviar and vodka to be had. At caviar and vodka prices, we mean. That's without food tickets though, so it's something to consider.

On the other hand if you are thinking of sitting down in a restaurant, or out on the sidewalk cafe and letting your phantasies roam, ordering the way you did way back in '38, you've got another thought coming. But the good burger is broken in to the meat.

butter, bread and what-have-you coupons.

And one more thing about the blackouts—if you're a second story man and get caught practicing your profession in the blackout—it's no hemstitch-a-hanky for three months—they make you a head shorter.

But on the whole the almost never failing Prussian ability to make things click keeps everybody smiling and every tummy full. The fact the "fellow on the other side" may be having a few pinches here and there too, makes everyone willing to hunch up the belt a couple of notches.

Men Healthy At Maneuvers, General Says

Ratio of Sick Below Average; 3 Succumb From Natural Causes

Camp McCoy, Wis.—(AP)—The 60,000 soldiers and officers engaged in second army maneuvers here survived their intensive war game training here with health appreciably better than the usual peacetime command's average, Lieut. General Stanley H. Ford announced today.

A total of 668 men were occupying hospital beds out of the 58,372 in the second army, or an average of 1.14 per thousand. This compared with a usual peacetime average of between two and three per cent of a command, General Ford's figures showed.

During mobilization military authorities plan to provide hospital beds at the rate of five per 100 soldiers. Virtually all the cases here are of a minor nature and most of the patients will be discharged in a few days. Since the maneuvers began, the ratio of hospitalization among the branches engaged has been: Regular army, 1.32; national guard, 3.74; and reserve officers, .86.

The good health record was achieved despite prolonged cold, continued rain and fatigue after two successive days and nights in the field, General Ford, the second army's commander, reported.

He said the peak day for hospital admissions was Aug. 23, when 761 beds were occupied at hospitals in Camp McCoy and Camp Williams. The number decreased to 715 Sunday, and 688 today.

Three deaths have occurred since the maneuvers began, all attributed to natural causes.

General Ford said Captain Caesar Sunseri, of the 112th medical regiment, Ohio National Guard, died Aug. 10 from carcinoma of the liver; First Sergeant William L. Dickerson, Company K, of the 10th infantry, died Aug. 22 from carcinoma of the bowels and Corporal Hezekiah Conaway of the service company, 8th infantry, Illinois National Guard died Aug. 25 from diabetes.

Refreshed by showers and shaves and the first full night's sleep in four days, the regulars and national guardsmen lounged at base camps today, awaiting Wednesday's critique on the annual maneuvers. The "cease firing" order ending the "Battle of Wisconsin" final conflict of the second army maneuvers, came at 3:33 p. m. yesterday, almost a full day ahead of schedule.

Post Office Registers Four Non-Citizens This Morning

Four non-citizens were registered and finger-printed this morning at the Appleton post office as part of the nation-wide program for the registration of aliens, according to Stephen D. Balliet, postmaster. Offices for the procedure will be open on the second floor until Dec. 28.

Aliens reporting this morning all appeared embarrassed and somewhat sheepish, said the postmaster. "but there should be no shame or stigma attached to the procedure. It is an orderly process required by law and is strictly confidential."

Except for stenographic work, Appleton post office employees are handling the registration. An exact account is kept of the time spent

The Weather

Forecast for Wisconsin:

Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, occasional light rain south and extreme east portions tonight and extreme south portion Wednesday; warmer west portion Wednesday.

General Weather Conditions:
A low pressure area which now overlies the central plains states has been attended by showers since yesterday morning over the plains states and general rain over the north central states, with heavy rain falling over sections of Wisconsin and Michigan. Fair weather prevailed this morning over the southern and western portions of the country.

It was warm this morning over the southern states, but rather cool weather continued over the north central and northern plains states. Light rain is expected in this section tonight, followed by mostly cloudy with little change in temperature Wednesday.

Insurance Veto Due Today or Tomorrow

A veto of the council's action in renewing $127,530 of insurance on city buildings will be filed today or tomorrow, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., said this morning.

When the council voted for renewal, 12 to 6, the mayor immediately said he intended to veto the resolution, stating that a "saving of $500 could be realized if the insurance were placed with a mutual company. A 30-day binder has been placed on the insurance, so the city still is protected after the veto is filed.

Committee Will Give Candidates Booklet

A 6-page booklet, entitled "Industry's Program for 1940" will be submitted to political candidates, a chamber of commerce committee for the mobilization of public understanding of private enterprise decided at a session yesterday afternoon.

The booklet treats of national defense, basic relation between government and business, the labor situation and recovery, government finance, currency standard, industrial financing and international trade and tariffs.

Car and Truck are Damaged in Crash

A car driven by Arnold Larish, Oshkosh, and a truck, operated by Frank Oskey, route 1, Appleton, collided about 1:30 Monday afternoon at the intersection of Unmuth street and Kamps avenue in Belle Heights, according to William Rohan, county motorcycle officer. Both machines were damaged but no one was injured, he said.

COLDS
There is really no such thing as "catching a cold." This expression has been used so long that many people seem to have accepted it literally. As a matter of fact, a cold is not a cold in the thermal sense, rather it is an excessive heat or inflammation which involves the mucous membrane of the air passages. Colds simply mean poisons. Colds are more easily contracted when our bodily resistance is low. The same circumstances which lead to a cold at one time will have no effect at another. We marvel at the ability of children to be subjected to exposure with immunity. The same experience in an older person might lead to very serious consequences. The difference lies in the excellent vitality of the child. Pressures on nerves at the spine tend to lower the general vitality. This slows down the life forces, permitting poisons to form more readily, which in turn overtaxes the organs of elimination. It is essential in the proper handling of colds that the elimination be brought quickly to normal. This the Chiropractor accomplishes through proper adjustments in cases of colds. Two hundred and seventy Chiropractors reporting five thousand and fifteen cases from their records showed the average cold was 97.6 per cent.

Donald Piette Gets Concurrent Terms for Larceny, Embezzling

Donald Piette, formerly of Appleton but more recently of Little Chute, waived preliminary examination and pleaded guilty of statutory rape before Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court Monday afternoon.

He was sentenced to 2 to 5 years at the Green Bay reformatory and began serving his sentence yesterday. Piette last week had pleaded not guilty of abandonment and Judge Ryan ordered the case held open.

On two other charges, one of grand larceny and the other of embezzlement, Piette was sentenced after he pleaded guilty. He was given six months in the county detention camp and $200 fine with an alternative of six months at the camp on the larceny charge and $10 and costs with an alternative of 20 days in jail for embezzling, the terms to run concurrently with the rape sentence.

Willard Buss, route 2, Appleton, Piette's companion, who pleaded guilty of grand larceny, was sentenced to six months at the county detention camp and $200 and costs with an alternative of six months at the camp. He began serving his sentence yesterday.

The pair was charged with taking a cash box containing $25 cash and valuable papers from the office of the Yellow Cab company, Inc., Aug. 17. Both worked for the firm. Piette also was charged with embezzling $4 from the firm.

6,747 Army and Navy Airplanes Ordered, Commission Reports

Washington—(AP)—The defense commission reported to President Roosevelt Monday that contracts for 6,747 army and navy planes were outstanding as of Aug. 17, despite the fact that funds for much of the aircraft procurement program were still tied up in the $5,000,000,000 defense bill.

The figures were contained in a report based on treasury department figures which were brought to the White House by Robert Horton, publicity director of the commission.

The report said that, as of Aug. 17, contracts were "in the works" for 3,916 army planes, including 2,029 combat and observation planes and 1,887 other types, primarily training.

For the navy on that date, Horton said, contracts had been let for 2,831, including 1,221 combat and observation, and 1,610 other types, mostly training. Horton explained these figures covered contracts outstanding for planes yet to be delivered. Dates of delivery for the planes were not disclosed.

New York Times Will Appeal Board Ruling

New York—(AP)—The New York Times plans to appeal an adverse labor board ruling on the grounds it embraces a "fundamental issue" of the closed shop in news and editorial departments of newspapers. The board ordered the Times, in a split decision handed down yesterday, to reinstate with back pay two former employees allegedly discharged for union activities and to transfer a third employee to his former position from which it was charged he was transferred to another job because of membership in the American Newspaper Guild (C.I.O.).

Old Songs, Old Harmony to Be Heard at Quartet Tourney

Old songs, sung the old way, will entertain the crowd at the Barber Shop Quartet tournament Wednesday night, Sept. 4, at Pierce park. Quartets appearing in the rally, which is non-competitive, will lend their voices to a whole evening of songs that will unearth hundreds of memories for those listening—especially those who are well beyond the "I can vote now" age.

For example, the Kimberly quartet composed of Ambrose Couillard, John Mauthe, Jack Coates, and Paul Rooyackers, has chosen "The Little Red Schoolhouse" as one of its ditties. Before the evening is over, the crowd will have heard a concert of old-fashioned song, sung in the traditional Barber Shop Quartet manner.

The crowd will be asked to join in a bit of community singing, to help the atmosphere, and there will be special acts to amuse and entertain.

Here's what a noted music critic and radio figure has to say about the Barber Shop Quartet of 1940:

Spaeth's Comments
Sigmund Spaeth in the magazine, "The Keynote," writes:

"The Barber Shop Quartet is definitely with us once more. Back in the Gay Nineties and even earlier, men who had managed to remove their inhibitions used to break naturally into song, and this song inevitably took the form of harmony known to the elect as 'barber shop.' Just how the term originated is uncertain. There were unquestionably real barber shop quartets all over America, chiefly in the south where the colored barbers instinctively improvised in a style that actually belongs to folk music. The tradition of music in a barber shop goes all the way back to Elizabethan England, when it was customary to have lutes and other instruments hanging on pegs for the use of those who were waiting for a shave or a cross-ruff."

"Whatever its origin, there is no question of the character and technique of barber shop harmony. It is always sung by male voices. It should be unaccompanied. The first tenor must sing always above the lead, who may be either the second tenor or the baritone. There are certain harmonies, particularly those in which two or three of the voices move about a sustained tone, which carry the indelible imprint of this unique style. The endings provide the best opportunities for such display of virtuosity. The more wicked the swipes, the better pleased will be the singers and possibly even their audience."

Rural Teachers Get Term Instructions

Eighteen new rural school teachers met at the county courthouse this morning for instructions from Henry J. Van Straten, county superintendent of schools, on the opening day of the annual rural school teachers' institute.

General institute sessions will be held at the courthouse Wednesday with instructions for the new term, which begins Monday, will be given. A number of speakers also have been scheduled.

Interesting Fact About Appleton

Early in 1851 the state legislature took steps to set up Outagamie county, and this was about two years before the newly incorporated village of Appleton held its first election. The original statute provided that the county seat be located in Grand Chute temporarily and that at the first county election which followed, the voters should decide where the county seat would be permanently situated.

The population at the time was centered largely about Lawrence university in what now is Appleton but what then was the three settlements of Grand Chute, Appleton and Lawesburg. All three were in the town of Grand Chute.

Grand Chute was chosen as the county seat, but when the three villages and towns combined later, Appleton inherited the county seat. Appleton, being the largest and most active of the three villages and also having the advantage of being the location of the college, naturally was chosen as the name for the combined group and there never appeared to have been any doubt about that being the name.

However, had either Grand Chute or Lawesburg been the location of the college, there is possibility that today, instead of being known as Appleton, the county seat would be known by the name of one of the other two villages.

When Appleton became a city in 1857 the territory that previously was three villages was accurately divided into three wards, each comprising the territory which previously had been one of the villages.

Wagons and Trailers Must Have Red Lights

Captain Charles Steidl, of the Outagamie county police, today warned drivers of farm wagons and trailers hauling produce after sunset to equip their wagons and trailers with suitable driving lights. He said he has been telling drivers about the law and warned that arrests will be made.

Clapper Deplores Delay in Recognizing Menace of War

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—We find it difficult to comprehend the size of our defense task. We cannot take in the enormous scope of total war. We hesitate and squirm and reach for the soft decision. That is because we are unable to picture to ourselves what we shall be facing if Britain goes down, for it is not the American habit to fail in any task it sets for itself.

The reason we are haggling and holding back and losing so much time is not through any lack of belief in America or through any lack of patriotism or willingness to do the job. It is because so many people agree with Lindbergh and with what some senators are saying in current debate, namely that we won't get into any trouble if we don't go looking for it in Europe.

The administration, in spite of all of its efforts, in spite of such convincing addresses as that recently made by Ambassador Bullitt, still has failed to drive it thoroughly into the mind of the American people that we are faced with a menace.

It is a slow-motion menace and the British empire still screens it from clear view. But it is there. Wendell Willkie sees it and is defying most of his own party leadership to give warning of it.

While testifying before the senate appropriations committee recently, General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, was asked to give some idea of what Germany had spent on war preparations before the fighting began a year ago.

General Marshall replied that the war department naturally had only very rough estimates. These rough estimates indicated, he said, that to reproduce the material accomplishments of the German war machine under our laws and procedure would probably require an expenditure of about $100,000,000,000. One hundred billion dollars is twice and a half as much as our own huge national debt.

U. S. Stands Alone
If Britain Is Beaten

Though the figure is only a rough estimate, it does suggest the vast national effort that Germany has put into her struggle for power. Thus far it has enabled Germany to become master of continental Europe.

Having gone to that great effort, and having already reaped such enormous dividends from it, Ger-

Lawrence Tells Of Political Use Of WPA Funds

Oklahoma Offered Money for Survey That Had Been Made

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Congress is about to levy the highest taxes the American people ever have faced and is about to ask the country to pay for the biggest defense bill it has ever had in peace times, and yet there is seemingly no effort to eliminate wasteful expenditure and hoarding of money through the WPA and other agencies.

If what is happening in Oklahoma is an example of what other states are encountering, then congress might well begin to re-examine government expenses to see what the non-war items are that are costing even more than they did in the acute days of depression.

Today comes a letter, for example, from a prominent man in Oklahoma who tells of what appears to be a new kind of "political racket" growing out of the alleged needs of the national defense situation. He writes:

"Through WPA Administrator Harrington, Oklahoma was offered $800,000, available July 1, for the purpose of making a white-collar project to survey the defense resources of the state. The state chamber of commerce and the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce and Oklahoma university were approached as being the most likely co-sponsors. The matter was referred to a committee of the Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce. However, before this committee was named, the officers of the state chamber of commerce raised a question as to whether such a large sum was necessary and state Administrator Stephens of WPA said they would consent to cut it down to $274,000, with a proviso that the amount could be increased later.

Useless Project
"The project calls for four months' work which was to have begun July 1 and end Nov. 1, which, by a strange coincidence, happens to be just before the election. Even after the cut was made, the plan called for about 1,500 workers and an expenditure of large sums of money and thousands of dollars for files, cabinets, electric fans, supplies, etc. When the committee got into action, one of its members became suspicious and investigated through a number of sources and found that two very complete surveys of war resources had been made, one by the war department and the other by the United States Census bureau. Each of them was sufficient in all respects. Besides that, there is information in the files of the state petroleum industry, the state geological survey and other public or official organizations.

"When this information was presented to the committee, they decided to drop the whole matter, and our last information is that the project is dead. I assume, however, that similar offers have been made by the WPA authorities to other states and assume some of them have been accepted.

"This is a bare-faced political racket involving the squandering of taxpayers' hard-earned money for a 100 per cent useless project, and this at a time when people are ask-

many is not likely to spare anything to conquer Britain for therein lies Hitler's path to the sea-power that he so hungers for. If Germany is successful in that, then only the United States will stand as a challenge—the only formidable obstacle in Hitler's path to that world power which was for so long held by Great Britain.

Having come so far along this road, would Hitler be likely to quit now? Surely we would be blind, utterly blind, to our own interests to gamble the future of the United States upon that chance.

All of this has been said many times before and said better and with more authority. Yet it needs constant repetition and emphasis because many people do not yet believe it. It is not believed by a number of senators and representatives.

We must see that if Britain goes down, we stand as the only world power left in the path of the German people on their victorious march with everything they possess being thrown into the effort.

Willkie, Roosevelt Both See Danger

Willkie recognizes this as clearly as does Roosevelt. In his acceptance speech he threw down the challenge. He said: "I promise, by returning to those same American principles that overcame German autocracy once before, both in business and in war, to out-distance Hitler in any contest he chooses in 1940 or after. And I promise that when we beat him, we shall beat him on our own terms, in our own American way."

What Willkie means by beating Hitler in our own American way is for him to explain. But the American way, as I read our history, has been to face the task, to eye its magnitude with cool confidence, to roll up our shirtsleeves and do it, at whatever cost.

But it also has been the American way to be rather slow in discovering what the task was. Union preparations for the Civil war were almost fatally slow. Our preparations in the last World war were slow in starting. Our danger never has been that we couldn't do the job. It always has been that we were slow in waking up to what had to be done. Now again, that is our chief danger. We can do it when, and only when, we believe that it really must be done. Our trouble now is that we still do not really believe that we are in danger.

ed to sacrifice for defense." While the WPA is presumably banned under the Hatch act from engaging in political activity, there is no law against the strategic distribution of funds among the citizens to build up political strength. The mere allocation of funds is regarded by candidates for public office as warranting an expression of gratitude by voters, and in many instances individuals will electioneer among their friends in ways that cannot possibly be policed under the Hatch law—something the practical politicians will not be slow to point out, especially since the department of justice of the Roosevelt administration did not prosecute anybody in the Democratic party for violations of the federal corrupt practices act in 1936 in connection with the illegal sale of the campaign books to corporations who have since 1909 been forbidden to contribute to political campaigns.

Effect of Grants
The importance of the WPA cannot be underestimated in a political campaign. In 1936, the statistics show that when the WPA expenditures were divided into high, medium, and low—these being terms designated to indicate above and below the average for a given state—the counties with the highest amounts received from WPA showed the highest percentages for the Roosevelt ticket while the counties with the lowest expenditure showed the lowest percentages. This was a uniform trend. The London vote fluctuated so that where the WPA allocations were least in amount, the Republicans made a better showing, and where the WPA was largest, the Republicans made their poorest showing.

This is not to say that the voters were unduly influenced by WPA or AAA, but that they were evidently reminded that the funds were given them by the Democratic party and that gratitude should be naturally expressed in the form of votes. In some instances in 1936, the federal government itself published manuals for federal office holders in order to show them exactly how much federal money was spent in each state and called meetings of federal office holders to make sure that they got copies of such data.

It is not surprising, therefore, that as a political campaign gets under way there should be sharp scrutiny of all federal expenditures which may possibly be related to a political purpose.

American "Manhood"

Clerks in marriage license bureaus have become fatigued at their burden of work since army service has loomed upon the horizon. The strong likelihood that the married man will be exempted from service has made wedded bliss take on a new rapture to those who have little sense of duty to their country and no feeling of share among relatives or acquaintances. They represent a low in manhood.

The craven nature of many men is particularly evident in the east from whence have come so many strident calls for defense measures and protection. At Brooklyn last Saturday police reserves were necessary to keep order among the 1200 couples who frantically presented themselves as candidates for "the holy bonds of matrimony." It seemed as though many of these gentlemen of the white feather had grabbed the first female they could find to accompany them and probably will desert her with equal alacrity. They openly boasted that they were marrying to "beat the law."

The great number rushing around the big cities looking for any sort of refuge to save them from duty is likely to pose some embarrassing but profitable questions in relation to the national trends of the day and the moral and muscular fiber of the citizen.

There have always been in the past many men too proud to run or otherwise show yellow colors. From present evidence, however, pride has crumbled in proportion to the destruction of self reliance, and the more a man is taught to lean upon others the more he is shaped into a fearful creature, a cry baby, a wetcher, whiner and deserter.

A Harder Problem Than Lafayette's

What would America do if it were France today and found its people in physical danger because of lack of food but a stubborn and resolute England patrolling the coast and prohibiting the entry of cargoes of wheat and meat? But in answering that question let another be considered: What would we do if we were England engaged in a deadly war and with the almost single formidable weapon of blockade when a great nation and former ally like France demanded food but the entry of it would serve to strengthen our enemy and relieve him of a trying problem?

Here is a clash of interests that is irreconcilable.

To win the war England must shut its eyes and stuff its ears against the suffering of innocent millions. But to live, France must shut its eyes and stuff its ears to England's position and argument. It must even engage in war with England rather than see its people starve.

Hardly a more absurd or discordant stage in international affairs could be presented than France genuinely fighting England because of their present antagonistic attitudes and yet parallel situations have arisen on frequent occasions throughout the stormy, bloody history of Europe.

It is fortunate that we are not already in the war. It would be hard to explain to some of our people how we sent our military might to rescue France from the invader but, defeated in that purpose, turned upon her and struck her down.

Lafayette must be having a hard time in his tomb these days.

Our Rude and Uncouth Fathers

On a balmy morning about this time of the year Abraham Lincoln took his good goose quill pen in hand and wrote this letter to Stephen A. Douglas:

"Will it be agreeable to you to make an arrangement for you and myself to divide time and address the same audiences at the same time?"

At the time Lincoln was of no particular consequence in the country except that he was a candidate for the senate as was Douglas. But the "Little Giant," as Douglas was endearingly called by his multitude of admirers, was a great national figure with an established reputation and popularity that was to bring him the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket hands down.

Douglas accepted the challenge by letting seven times and places for meeting with a plan for division of time and other details; all of which Lincoln approved without complaint or qualification. There was no Ross Flynn around to dismiss Lincoln's proposal as a "piece of cheap publicity."

Nor was Douglas either so fearful or so swollen by his own importance, as to advance shuffling quibbles to avoid a grapple.

A Sky Ride With the Socialists

When Mexico took over the oil properties three years ago the companies claimed their properties were worth 400 million, no doubt a full if not exaggerated figure. But the indications that the final offer to them will be but about 10 millions discloses a shrinkage rare even in the marts of international barter.

The particular value of the properties is not nearly as important as the developments under government ownership. It should be remembered that before the expropriation of these properties there was a so-called labor award by the Mexican government which imposed such drastic conditions upon the companies that they surrendered the field. This award not only increased the pay of workers to several times the customary Mexican wages but provided for an increase in employment, abolished confidential positions, increased vacation periods and restricted the discharge of personnel.

At that time the companies insisted that the award would load them annually with an increased burden of about 41 million pesos and that the industry could not stand it; the Mexican government insisted the load would only be 26 million pesos and that the companies could easily stand it.

Now we have before us the results of the Mexican brain trust in operation and need no longer deal with theory or speculation. The deficits are greater than even the companies estimated. This may indicate that the companies were generous in expecting better management from the government than actually resulted.

The report recently filed by President Cardenas' investigation commission shows that when the companies surrendered to the government there were 15,895 employees which have since been increased to 19,316. But the addition of nearly 5,000 employees resulted, says this Mexican commission, in a "slow decline in the efficiency of the personnel, and the lack of responsibility of the local boards who were constantly admitting new personnel."

The Mexican president has given drastic orders to cure the evils that have developed. His orders are practically to discard the very governmental labor award which the companies pointed out three years ago was absurd.

The venture in socialized emotion has cost Mexico about 100 million pesos. It has been a heavy blow to a nation already weak. The mishandling of these great properties has practically assured their confiscation since government finances are in such a state that even were the companies to receive an award of 10 millions for their properties it is unlikely they will ever get anything more than the piece of paper on which the award is written.

And, let's see, what has been the gain from all this, and who gained what?

The Red Ticket

Arizona has ruled that the Communist ticket, devoted to a violent destruction of the American government, cannot find a place on the ballot in that state.

Elsewhere court tests have been instituted, principally by the American Legion, seeking to prevent the Communists from obtaining the privilege and dignity of a place on the American ballot.

This is a ticklish and delicate question.

Democracy cannot afford to become narrow or intolerant. Neither must it expose its back continually to professional stabbers. It may, in untroubled times, pay as little attention to the Reds as to a lone mosquito buzzing outside the screen, but in critical times, with war, and treacherous war, in the air it must not adopt an attitude of foolish indifference.

Has a burglar a right in your home? Has a robber a right to meet you on the street with a gun? If these questions are answered in the affirmative then the Communists have a right on the ticket.

Broad as is democracy, and broad as we shall keep it, it is not silly enough to extend special preference and particular protection to the criminal scum who have been cunning enough to assume a political attitude just to get past the gate.

The right of any man to argue for the merits of the Russian Heaven must not be denied. But no longer can the country disregard the claim to privileges of those who seek to destroy a country by force and irrespective of the will of its people.

Everyone knows, or should know, that when the American people want total socialism they can obtain it in very simple form and manner.

WREN'S NEST

This nest so tiny and yet so complete, Is a whole world to one small family. Just far enough from the marauding bee. It is a safe, hospitable retreat For brown wrens, resting from the summer heat.

Threatened by winds, and visited by rain, Still in the mind of this domestic bird, Home is a haven where no sound is heard Except a happy song, a sweet refrain. Here all of our anxieties seem vain.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—Ambassador Bill Bullitt, most versatile and volatile of all Roosevelt's diplomats, probably will go on the stump throughout the country campaigning for "national unity" and urging American support for Great Britain.

His tour will be divorced from the New Deal, and he will not return to his embassy in France.

Many of the men around Roosevelt now are far ahead of him in proposing aid to Britain, and some of them may cooperate with Bullitt in this movement. Some are definitely critical of the president, though close friend Bullitt is not. They feel that Roosevelt has been holding back, and that the country is ready to go much further than he.

Note—Bullitt received 4,000 letters and telegrams after his radio address warning the nation that the United States faced immediate invasion from Hitler if England failed. Only about ten of the letters were critical.

DEFENSE BLOW-UP

If certain legislative and administrative snarls in the defense program aren't cleared up quickly, there is going to be a blow-up in the defense commission that will knock a dent in the Roosevelt administration. Some fast footwork and placating White House palaver has kept the explosive situation under cover so far, but it is very serious.

Inside fact is that William Knudsen, who gave up a $300,000-a-year General Motors job to become defense production chief, is getting restive over the delays he is encountering. He has made no threats, but he has also made it clear that unless he gets action he does not intend to continue in a position where he could be blamed for lack of production.

A "plain operations man," as he describes himself, Knudsen worked out a schedule of production for tanks, guns, planes, armor plate, and the other vital essentials for defense. But these plans, partly because of tax delays, partly because of business sit-downs, have encountered repeated obstructions.

For example: Knudsen was first told that the amortization problem, which has held up the construction of several new defense plants, would be handled in congress in a separate bill. But at the last minute, treasury tax experts objected to this and insisted that the matter be included in the excess (war profits) tax bill.

Next Knudsen was assured by congressional leaders that the tax bill would be passed by August 17. But first the Republicans recessed to attend the Willkie acceptance ceremonies at Elwood; and then last week, on the verge of finally reporting out a bill, the house ways and means committee got into a brawl and the legislation was postponed again.

RFC LOAN DELAYS

While this dilly-dallying was going on at Capitol Hill, Knudsen was having other difficulties with Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones.

The RFC was given wide powers by congress several months ago to make loans to industry for defense purposes. But when Knudsen submitted a list of plant expansions that needed financing, Jones balked.

He objected on the ground that one-third of the output of the plants would go to fill British war orders. Knudsen pointed out that this was not impairing U. S. preparedness, but on the contrary was providing the country with vital productive capacity at the expense of the British.

Still Jones, despite the president's policy of extending every assistance to the British, didn't like the idea of lending U. S. government money to aid factory expansion for the British.

Note—Much of the tax delay in congress is the result of business opposition to any real tax program, and some of Knudsen's advisers are strongly with them on that. However, Knudsen personally is not.

BAREFOOT BOY OF SUPREME COURT

Six months ago there was some expectation that Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme Court might be pried loose from his marble retreat to run for the presidency on the Republican ticket. But what is he doing now?

Latest reports describe him as wading barefoot in the soft sand and shallow pools of Brandywine Creek.

Roberts has a country estate at Kimberlin, near Phoenixville, Pennsylvania. In the long summer recess of the court, he spends his time there in the leisure of a country squire.

Justice Roberts loves the feel of sand and soft mud between his toes, and takes no shoes to Brandywine or the Octoraro.

On these two creeks, he and his friend Frank B. Foster venture forth in a canoe. The creeks are seldom more than waist deep, but for safety's sake, the two dignitaries post a chauffeur at the nearest bridge so that, in case of emergency, he may act as life guard.

APPEASEMENT AMBASSADOR

Regardless of whether Ambassador Cudahy was misquoted by the British press, there is no doubt that his backstage conversation with state department officials favored "appeasement" in the extreme.

The Germans he described as a great race, doing many fine things for Europe. He said it was necessary for us to deal with them. The British he described as causing most of the trouble in Europe. It was absolutely necessary, Cudahy said, to get the British to change their tune.

Note—While in England, Ambassadors Cudahy and Joe Kennedy compared notes, found themselves in substantial agreement.

FARLEY AND ITALIANS

Jim Farley continued working for Roosevelt right up until his resignation as chairman of the Democratic National committee. One of the last things he did was to ask Tommy D'Alessandro, dynamic congressman from Baltimore, to visit the Italian districts in the big cities and campaign for Roosevelt.

Congressman D'Alessandro has six children, of whom the fifth is named Franklin Delano Roosevelt D'Alessandro, and he is just as ardent a roofer for the president as the name implies. He has told Jim Farley that the Italian districts can be swung to Roosevelt easily.

Note—Farley also asked Senator Tydings of Maryland, against whom Roosevelt voted a vigorous primary campaign, to make some speeches for the president. Tydings said he would be too busy. However, he is not bolting to Willkie.

TAXING INDUSTRY

Editor Post-Crescent: From a good American citizen and American born, I wonder in my own mind, why industry such as private industry, is being held down, to a profit of 10 per cent. These corporations are not owned by one man, nor two men, there are many thousands of share holders in all these corporations; they are taxed to death, and are afraid to expand, and dictated to by organized labor. To my notion this is not the American way of doing business. If labor, demands a raise in wages, and it is not granted, well then you have a sit-down strike, and it stops production of war material, and of all material, if these workers had to carry the load, that the management does, they would go short of sleep, and become gray at an early age. Instead of organized labor, why not a labor commission, be appointed or elected by the people of each and every state, as to wages, hours and based on a corporations earnings, a new corporation, starting or going along employing men, and not making any money should be taken into consideration, and a living wage set, so as they may exist and work their way to a going and paying corporation. I wish to state to the worker, when pay day comes, you go to the office for your pay, you expect it then, and at once, and have a right to expect it, but have you ever given a thought to how your employer, as worked into the long hours of the night, figuring a way, to make money to pay you, and the stock holders. There is keen competition in all lines, in this great country today, my country, your country. One great man said, competition is the life of trade, and I for one, do not believe it; it is beginning to look as though it is the death of trade. One thing certain, I believe, the employee should be able to buy stock thru or in the corporation he works for, so as some of the burden of profits rests on his shoulders, as well as the management. This stock should be sold to the employee on a payment plan, then they would not be so apt to strike, and abuse the management with their tongues and strikes. Capitol will be fair to labor, only when labor is fair in these dealings with capital. I don't believe capital is happy when labor is hungry. The United States Steel Corporation has sold stock to its employees, and today for the number of men employed, strikes are very nearly unknown to this great corporation. We have free speech in this country, which is wonderful, but no one but an American citizen, should be allowed to speak his mind, from the top of a soap box. We allow too many aliens who are not citizens to come to our shores, and say what they think to the public of this, and that; and what not, they should be picked up and reported, at once, not next year, or the year after. If not a citizen at once, we do not need them in our country nor do we want them; taking away jobs from the Americans to whom this country rightfully belongs.

I have been reading my paper very closely, and read, how we are not prepared for war. Why not tell Hitler to come over, and take what he wants. I don't believe it is right to tell the secret that we are not prepared in case of invasion, or let the world know, we may be inviting trouble. If we are not prepared we should be. It's been PWA—CCC—and what not, billions of dollars spent, and now, the government come out boldly and tell the Citizens of our country, we are not prepared they are trying the officials, of France, for things of this kind. Who should be tried here?

I love to read this saying, My flag, my country, right or wrong, and that's me all over.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

All passengers on the Bermuda Clipper, including nineteen American citizens, were searched by U. S. secret service agents upon the plane's arrival in New York. It caused quite a sensation. I figure Bermuda was behind it, the idea being to see whether the Americans were bringing home any naval bases.

The war has everybody so jittery there's no telling what may happen anywhere anytime; but searching a Bermuda Clipper seems unusually far-fetched.

I see Governor Art James of Pennsylvania has been taken into the Seneca Indian tribe and christened "O-Dahn-Gah!" I figure the redskins tell him means "Sunlight." I hope they ain't fooling him.

The governor posed holding a bow and arrow with a group of Senecas. He must be after something—and I don't think it's anything Indians can give him.

BY FRED R. ZIMMERMAN
Secretary of State

Madison—Every legislative body is troubled with the question of taxation, and every state legislature and every national congress talks about the "growing burden of taxation."

For every new public service that is furnished, a new method of taxation must be found to meet the cost. Originally taxes were almost entirely placed on land, but "painless" methods of taxation have gradually been substituted. Now in state and nation we have an income, gas tax, automobile tax, cigarette tax, amusement tax, and many other taxes, until we wonder just where the money comes from and where it goes.

The sources of largest tax income in Wisconsin can be shown easily. All states receive federal aid. Last year Wisconsin received about $15,000,000. Since the national government must raise this money, before it can give it to the states, we have one answer to the ever-growing federal debt and the reason for new methods for raising taxes at Washington.

The federal funds which we receive are re-distributed and on a basis of state money matched against the federal aid. For example: In order to qualify for the $5,000,000 highway aid, the state must raise money to match the federal grant. Wisconsin receives about $5,000,000 of federal money for old age pensions and this we match with state money. The federal government will pay one half the pension grant, but not more than $20 per month, per pensioner. As Wisconsin has a $40 per month maximum pension law, the government pays half of all our pensioners. About $10,000,000 of the federal grant to Wisconsin goes to our university and another $10,000,000 for aid to dependent children. Other federal funds are used for aid to crippled children, public health service, and for the construction of our new state office building.

For the year ending June 1940, Wisconsin received from all forms of taxation about $100,000,000, and this money—in large measure—is distributed to counties, cities, towns and villages of the state. Every time you buy gasoline at four cents per gallon state tax is added. That gas tax produces one of the large tax incomes for the state, or about $20,000,000. The gasoline companies send us their checks each month and we count on close to $2,000,000 about the 20th of every month from that source.

Another large tax income is from automobile license fees and here we raise about $15,000,000 annually. This money is received principally during January, February, March and April. The 1939 legislature extended the time for buying license plates to April, while the law required payment of highway aids to the counties in March. In other words, we were asked to pay in March, money that was not received until April.

In March 1940, we returned to the counties $5,300,000 in road aid, $5,200,000 in school aids, which with other smaller aids, brought state aids to counties for the month of March alone, to approximately $12,000,000. We speak of the state spending $100,000,000 per year, but automobile and truck license fees, gasoline tax, income taxes, railroad taxes, liquor taxes and other taxes are returned by the state to the counties and the state is in fact only the collector and the distributor of these funds.

Road aids to counties take into consideration population, road mileage and era. If the county is at a disadvantage in one, it may have an advantage in another.

The state collects about $3,000,000 annually in liquor taxes and this goes back to the counties, based on population. Wet and dry territory share alike in the distribution of these liquor taxes. The dry counties in which no liquor is sold, receive about $100 for every man, woman and child in the county—exactly the same amount received by the wet territory.

Jointly, the state and the counties spend most of their money for roads and education. The state university and our normal schools are a large factor in the disbursement of the tax dollar.

The charitable and penal institutions make new and added demands. Prison buildings are old, unsanitary and must be replaced. Neglect of some new institutions such as the girls reformatory south of Madison, demand appropriations so they may be protected and completed.

When all state employees are considered: Judges, state officers, professors and employees at the university and normal schools, Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Department, Health Department, Tax Commission—in fact everybody—we have about 12,000 or 13,000 persons on the payroll, and it takes about 12,000,000 every month to meet that payroll.

Strangely enough, we have no state debt. And no living person can claim credit for that. When our Wisconsin constitution was written, the framers of it added a paragraph which has always made, and will continue to make, a state debt impossible.

ANTI-GRAY HAIR FACTOR

Mrs. J. K. writes:
"I am 64 years old, and my hair turned gray when I was quite young. For the past 12 years I have taken your iodine ration several months each year, and noticed no change in my hair, although the iodine ration surely does keep one from going stale and feeling prematurely old."

Two years ago I began eating plain wheat and whole wheat breads and cereals with cracked or whole wheat in them.

In nine months my hair showed a marked change in color, not really restoration of the color it had in youth, but certainly a real return of some of the lost color, and much of the new hair has come in dark.

So I say if one wants to keep hair from turning gray one should not only take a regular iodine ration, as you often advise, but one should also eat plain wheat, whole wheat cereal preparations and wheat germ too. This is my experience."

Now then, if your hair is beginning to turn gray or if you feel a bit gray, weary and melancholy, I am happy to send on request, if you inclose stamped envelope bearing your address, "Instructions for Taking an Iodine Ration." Along with it, if you mention it, I'll inclose a monograph "Wheat to Eat" which tells you how to use plain wheat in your everyday dietary, and why.

All I know about preventing hair from becoming prematurely gray or possibly restoring some of the lost color in some instances, is what I read in the medical literature and in the letters people write me about their experience with the iodine ration and vitamin B complex. It is the vitamin B complex in wheat that does the trick if anything does. In the vitamin B complex there is an entity or factor known to scientific workers as the anti-gray hair factor—because it seems essential to prevent the hair of animals on experimental diets from turning gray prematurely.

Plain wheat is the best natural food source of vitamin B complex. Wheat germ is the richest food source of it. Wheat bran contains considerable of it. Drier pasteurized non-fermenting yeast of certain special strains contains a good deal of it — not live fermenting yeast used in baking. Fresh vegetables such as peas and beans, carrots, cabbage, beet greens, lettuce, supply a fair amount. Pork chops are an excellent source. Then, in order to insure an optimal intake (more than merely enough to prevent manifestations of nutritional deficiency) there are concentrates of vitamin B complex available in tablet or capsule form.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Who Supposes?

Nicotinic acid is supposed to prevent graying of hair. How much should be taken daily for this purpose? (Margaret F.)

Answer—Please do not hold me responsible for the idea. Some physician I quoted recently had noticed apparent restoration of lost color to gray hair in some patients who were taking nicotinic acid. One entity of the vitamin B complex (unidentified) is designated "anti-gray hair factor" because of its effect in experimental work, preventing or retarding premature graying of the hair. So my suggestion is not nicotinic acid alone, but an optimal daily ration of the natural vitamin B complex, which includes nicotinic acid and the other factors. Two or three capsules daily would give 10 or 15 mg. of nicotinic acid, 800 to 1200 units of B. (thiamin), 800 to 1200 gammas of B. (G. riboflavin) etc.

Sept. 7 Is Dinner-Dance Date at Riverview Club; 250 Attend Junior Party

Sept. 7 is the date of the next dinner-dance at Riverview Country club, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Schaefer, general chairman of Riverview dinner-dances this season, announced today. On the committee for the party are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gilbert, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pickard, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Purdy and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thickens. It will be the club's third dinner-dance this summer, and except for the informal harvest home supper Oct. 12, the last large club party of the season.

Last night about 250 young people gathered at Riverview for one of the club's popular junior dances. Although dancing was the main part of the program, over 40 inexpensive, humorous prizes were awarded at intermission time. The committee in charge of the party consisted of the Misses Peggy-Banta, Menasha, and the Misses Mary and Jean Koffend and Ruth Orison, Appleton.

Another young people's party will be given tonight at North Shore Golf club. It is being called a post-camp party, and will include games for the younger children as well as dancing for the older ones. Nathalie Bergstrom, chairman of the committee, is being assisted with the arrangements by Billy Aylward, Jimmy Pickard and Geraldine Whale.

Travelers, Auxiliary Attend Fall Round-Up

Thirteen members of Appleton council, United Commercial Travelers, and its auxiliary attended the annual fall round-up of the state organization Saturday at Oshkosh. In the group from Appleton were George Limpert, grand counselor of the organization, who presided at the meeting, and Mrs. Limpert, who spoke at the auxiliary session.

Christian Mothers Will Meet Tonight

Christian Mothers society of St. Theresa church will have a business meeting Tuesday night at the parish hall after the devotion to Our Lady of Perpetual Help, held every Tuesday night at the church.

Pre-Nuptial Party Fetes Bride-to-be

Mrs. John Bowers and Mrs. Allen Bowers were co-hostesses at a con-shower last night at the former's home, 109 W. Summer street, in honor of Miss Mercedes Hassmann, who will be married Saturday to John A. Bowers, Jr. The evening was spent playing cards and dice, prizes going to Mrs. Malcolm Jeske, Mrs. Clark Wiese and Mrs. Joseph Hassmann, Jr., Milwaukee, at bridge. Mrs. Hassmann also received a guest prize. Winners at schafskopf were Mrs. Emma Hassmann, Mrs. Stanley Bojarske, Mrs. John Letter and Mrs. John Fischer, and at dice, Mrs. Robert Kranhold, Miss Florence Bojarske and Mrs. Howard Bowers. The bride-to-be received a gift.

L. W. T. club, Appleton Catholic converts group, will sponsor a card party Sept. 22, in both the afternoon and evening, at St. Joseph's hall. Herman Klipstein, chairman of the committee, is being assisted by Ernest Albrecht, Frank Warner, R. A. Bentz, Clarence Below, Mrs. Elda Schommer, Mrs. James Theyel, Miss Florence Bement, Mrs. Wilbur Kiborn, Mrs. Clement Schreier, Mrs. Anthony Muggenthaler and Miss Mary Schaefer, in making arrangements for the event.

A surprise party was given Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Buboltz, Hilbert. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sauer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sauer and family and Mrs. Mabel Hoks, Neenah; and Mrs. Adam Goss and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sauer and family, Appleton. A dinner was served.

Christian Mothers society of St. Theresa church will sponsor its weekly card party at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the parish hall. Mrs. Joseph Alleri and Mrs. Ben Hartzheim again will be in charge.

The eightieth birthday anniversary of L. J. Raetz, 930 E. Winnebago street, was celebrated Sunday at his brother's home at Manitowoc. The party was held there because Mr. Raetz was born in Manitowoc and all his friends live there. Among the 35 guests present were Mrs. Laura Raetz, Kenneth and Jane Raetz, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Pfefferkorn, Waupun. All the other guests were from Two Rivers and Manitowoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Arnoldussen entertained friends and relatives Sunday at their home on route 4, Appleton, in observance of the former's birthday anniversary. Cards furnished the entertainment. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Molitor, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Schinkel, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Dierck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vosters, Mr. and Mrs. John Vandenberg, Mr. and Mrs. John Dierck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lamers, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Chilton Couple Married in Catholic Church Ceremony

Miss Ione Kersten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Kersten, Chilton, became the bride of Clayton Miller, son of Oscar Miller and Mrs. Wilmer Mangan of Chilton, at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Mary church, Chilton. The nuptial mass was celebrated by the bride's cousin, the Rev. Theodore Kersten, pastor of St. Mary church at Stockbridge.

Miss Gertrude Anhalt, Plymouth, was her cousin's maid of honor. Miss Virginia Miller, a sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and Carol Anhalt, a cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. Lester Lorenz, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and Eugene Schabach, a cousin of the bride, was another attendant. Leon Kessler of St. John, a cousin of the bridegroom, ushered.

The wedding breakfast was served at the Miller restaurant, Chilton. A reception for relatives and friends was held at the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon.

After a brief honeymoon the young couple will reside at 119 W. Main street, Chilton. The bridegroom operates the West Side Meat market. He was graduated from Chilton High school in 1936 and the bride was graduated with the class of 1937. She was secretary to Superintendent F. F. Schlosser of the high school for one year and then was employed in the office of the Wisconsin Public Service corporation, Chilton.

Berrens-Forestner

Miss Catherine Berrens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Berrens, Chilton, became the bride of William Forestner, son of Mrs. Louise Forestner, Chilton, at a simple wedding ceremony at the parsonage of St. Augustine church, Chilton, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The Rev. Henry Vande Castle read the marriage vows which were repeated by the bride and groom. The bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Nemecek, Appleton, were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Forestner will reside in the upper flat of the Joseph Reinkober residence, Chilton.

Galloway-Ariens

In a quiet ceremony performed in the chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Milwaukee at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Miss Georgia Galloway, Brillion, daughter of Mrs. Anna Galloway, Brillion, became the bride of Francis Ariens, son of Rev. William Oliver Johnson performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her only sister, Mrs. Edward Tamm, Milwaukee, as matron of honor and the bridegroom was attended by Edward Tamm as best man. After the ceremony the couple left on a 2-week wedding trip to northern Michigan. On their return they will reside with the bride's mother at Brillion. The bridegroom is employed at the Ariens company at Brillion and the bride is employed as stenographer at the same plant. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of the Brillion High school. Those from Brillion attending the ceremony were the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna Galloway, and the bridegroom's father, Henry Ariens.

Fitz-Robinson

Miss Marian Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Robinson, Green Bay, and Clarence Fitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Fitz, 1305 S. Kernan avenue, were married at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Mt. Olive Lutheran church, the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer performing the ceremony. Miss Ella Fitz, sister of the bridegroom and Leslie Bast attended the couple.

Schmidt-Woelfel

Miss Marie Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Schmidt, North Stockbridge, and Leonard Woelfel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Woelfel, Hayton, were married at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's Catholic church at Stockbridge. The Rev. Francis Heimann of Jericho, uncle of the bridegroom, sang the high nuptial mass.

The bride was attended by Miss Alma Woelfel, sister of the bridegroom as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were the Misses Marcela Seichter, Hilbert, and Marjorie Schaefer, Chilton. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Roland Woelfel, Hayton, and a friend, Edward Koehler, Chilton. The wedding dinner and reception were given at Willow Inn at Brant. Mr. and Mrs. Woelfel are entertaining at a wedding dance this evening at the Willow Inn ballroom. They will make their home at the farm home of the bridegroom's parents, where he is employed.

Dunkley-Lierman

Miss June Dunkley, daughter of Mrs. Grace Dunkley, Milwaukee, became the bride of Raymond Lierman, Milwaukee, in a ceremony performed at 7:30 Sunday evening in Simpson's Methodist church, Milwaukee. The Dunkleys were former residents of Waupaca when the Rev. Frank Dunkley was pastor of the First Methodist church. The marriage was performed by the Rev. P. Merritt and the bride was given in marriage by her twin brothers, Horace and Homer.

Following a reception at the church which was attended by nearly 200 friends, the young couple left for Waupaca, where they will spend their honeymoon at the Dunkley cottage on Stratton lake. Thursday afternoon the ladies of First Methodist church will give a reception and shower for the bride at the home of Mrs. Alton Hanson, Waupaca. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. James Shannon and Mrs. Lillian Taber.

Among those from Waupaca who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson and son Carlisle, Mrs. George Friberg, Mrs. L. A. Johnson, Mrs. Maurice Behnke, Mrs. Ethel Myrick, Mrs. James Shannon, Mrs. Lillian Taber, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hanson and daughter, Katherine Ann.

Sherwood-Kleist

Skidmore Out of Johnson Case

ports were that Goldstein would become a government witness. Campbell's only comment on that was that disposition of a pending perjury case—against Goldstein—would "depend on how he performs here."

Just before the dismissals, defense counsel had moved for continuance of the trial until next Tuesday and when that was denied they asked for postponement until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Barnes also denied that motion.

A venire of 100 prospective jurors was brought into court for the lengthy questioning preceding selection of the jury.

The dismissals left nine defendants in the conspiracy case which covered the years 1936 to 1939.

Johnson and Skidmore are said by federal prosecutors to share control of the syndicate which oversees Chicago's multi-million dollar betting business.

Five hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed by the federal court to tell the story of a great city's gambling—a story which grand juries have been listening to for several months. It was estimated that two months would be required to present all the evidence.

Only one of a number of indictments resulting from the government's investigation of gambling here, the conspiracy case listed five counts and set forth an allegation that the general method of evading tax payments was for each of the Johnson lieutenants or Skidmore to claim ownership of one or more parcels of property, thereby concealing Johnson's ownership. Of the resorts mentioned, 21 were in Chicago or its environs.

The indictment was returned March 29, naming in addition to Johnson, Skidmore, Goldstein, Alexander and Miss Downey Edward H. Wait, Johnson's right-hand man; Reginald E. Mackay, Andrew J. Creighton, Jack Sommers, James A. Hartigan, J. M. Flanagan and William P. Kelly, managers of various resorts; Stuart Brown, operator of a currency exchange which the government accuses of having cashed $1,200,000 in checks received at handbooks.

All have entered pleas of innocence.

Bowling Begins Tuesday Night

20-Team City League Will Launch Season; 7-Man Rule Adopted

Neenah — Neenah's bowling season will be launched next week when the City league, a 20-team circuit, opens Tuesday night, Sept. 3, at the Neenah alleys.

It was decided at a meeting last night that the league season will consist of 33 weeks, concluding April 29, 1941. The 7-man rule was adopted, and according to the new regulation, each team can be comprised of seven bowlers but captains must submit his team roster before the opening night of bowling. The rule is elastic to permit any bowler outside of the league as a substitute providing the substitute's average is not more than the average of the kegler for whom he is substituting.

A new handicap rule also was adopted. The new regulation provides for a four-fifths of scratch, which is 190. The previous rule was three-quarters of scratch.

The team entry fee is $5 and $1 for each night of which 60 cents will pay for the bowling and 40 cents for prizes. The league voted to dispense with the yearly banquet.

Officers of the league are Leo Asmus, president; Dan Behnke, vice president, and A. A. Hennig, secretary.

The teams are as follows: First National Bank, defending champions; Gilbert Papers, Lancaster Bonds, Leopold Tavern, Eagles, Haase, Klinker and Rhoades, National Manufacturers Bank, Neenah Papers, Hughes and Bend, Meyer Booterie, Balcony, Charron Tavern, Schmidt Builders, Twin City School Supply, Gold Labels, Sawyer Papers, Gord's Beer Depot, Lieber Lumber, Lakeview Recreation, and Mutual Trust or Avalon.

Honors in bridge during the evening went to Miss Pearl Haase. Miss Alice Aylward and Mrs. William Timlin who is from Milwaukee. Miss Genevieve Hickey won the traveling prize. The bride-to-be received gifts.

Machines Damaged In Two Accidents

Neenah — Three automobiles and a truck were damaged in two accidents Monday in Neenah.

Cars driven by Norman Koepke, 19, 430 W. North Water street, Neenah, and George Elwers, 48, 314 E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah, collided at 9 o'clock last night on N. Commercial street at Forest avenue. Neenah police, who investigated the accident, were told that both machines were traveling north on N. Commercial street. The Koepke car was about to park and the Elwers car, which had been parked, was pulling away from the curb when the accident occurred. The right rear fender on the Koepke machine and the front bumper on the Elwers car were damaged.

A Windermere Dairy truck, driven by Charles Curtiss, 19, 210 River street, Neenah, and a car driven by George Merrill, 77, route 2, Neenah, collided at 10 o'clock in the morning on Main street. The car was going east on Main street and the truck was backing away from the curb when the mishap occurred. Both machines were damaged.

Neenah Rockets To Face 8-Game Grid Schedule

Coach Probably Will Call Candidates on First Day of School

Neenah — Although the weather now is conducive to football, Coach George Christoph probably won't issue his first call for candidates for Neenah high school's grid squad until the opening day of school Tuesday, Sept. 3.

The Red Rockets this fall face a stiff 8-game schedule which will include six Northeastern Wisconsin conference games and two non-conference contests.

The non-conference games will be played with Country Day school, Milwaukee, and St. Mary High school, Menasha. Neenah has signed a 2-year contract with the Milwaukee private school, and the first game will be played at Milwaukee and the second at Neenah.

The schedule is as follows: Sept. 21, Neenah at Clintonville; Sept. 28, Neenah at Country Day, Milwaukee; Oct. 5, Kaukauna at Neenah; Oct. 12, New London at Neenah; Oct. 19, St. Mary at Neenah; Oct. 26, Neenah at Shawano; Nov. 2, West DePere at Neenah, and Nov. 8, Neenah at Menasha.

Indications are that Coach Christoph this year will have a strong team, for more than a complete team of experienced gridmen, including 15 lettermen, will return to the squad this fall.

Neenah will have a letterman for each berth as well as lettermen who will be substitutes for four posts. Eight of the lettermen are seniors, six are juniors and one sophomore.

They are: Ends, Eugene Calloway, Robert Hackstock, and LeRoy Hanson; tackles, Al Ackerman and James Willis; guards, LaVerne Graham and Calvin Krenger; centers, Roy Douglas and Dan Kuehl; quarterback, Dino Burts; halfbacks, Milton Luka, George Strohmeier and Buxton Kettering, and fullbacks, Charles Kettering and Raymond Smith.

Smith, B. Kettering, Calloway, Hackstock, Ackerman, Krenger, Graham and Douglas are seniors, while C. Kettering, Strohmeier, Luka, Hanson, Kuehl and Willis are juniors. Burts is the sophomore. These lettermen are going to be pressed to keep their berths. Although the Rocket mentor hasn't been talking about them, he has some sophomores and juniors who are hefty and who are said to have some natural ability. Toward the conclusion of last fall's season, Christoph was substituting these men quite regularly.

Last year was Neenah's worst gridiron season in many years, the Rockets winning only 1 game, tying one and losing six. They gained considerable prestige in the final game when they tied Menasha.

Tipsy Driver Pays 2 Fines

Justice Assesses $99 Under City Ordinance, $1 Under State Law

Neenah — Roy Smith, 34, 208 W. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah, pleaded guilty of drunken driving when he was arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace Elmer H. Radtke and was fined $99 and costs under the city ordinance and $1 and costs under the state law, fines and fees totaling $108.10. His driver's license was suspended until he can prove financial responsibility to the secretary of state.

Neenah police arrested the defendant last night on E. North Water street after he had driven his car into an excavation in the center of N. Commercial street. The excavation was barricaded.

Bendt in Finals Of Tennis Tourney

Menasha — George Bendt, No. 1 player of the Menasha High school tennis team, advanced to the finals of the class A division of the tennis tournament being conducted by Leo Royer, WPA recreation director, last week.

In the quarterfinal round Bendt trounced William Machie 6-0, 6-4 and in the semifinals he won from Doug Strong 6-3, 6-2. Bendt advanced through the first two rounds of the tournament on a bye and a forfeit and then defeated Roy Cox, Jr. 6-1, 6-1.

A third round match is holding up the tournament in the lower bracket. H. Karrow and Fred Yaley are to play. The winner of that match will meet E. Beattie in the round of eight and the winner there will advance to the semifinals as he will play J. Asmus.

Asmus advanced through the first three rounds easily and then defeated Loran Hurley 6-1, 6-3 in the round of 16 and Ben Stepanak 6-3, 6-4 in the round of eight.

Brighton Beach Driver Takes Outboard Honors

Menasha — Dick Hansen, Brighton Beach, took first place in class C and class F by points in the outboard motorboat races at Omro Sunday. He also finished first in the midjet class. In class B Hansen had a second and third but failed to finish high in the point totals.

Oil wells today are drilled in one-fifth the time required ten years ago.

Model Plane Owners Will Register Crafts For Contest Saturday

Menasha — Entry blanks for the model airplane flying contest will be distributed at the meeting of the Aeronuts club at 730 Wednesday night at the Memorial building. To compete in the flying contest scheduled for Saturday, planes must be registered Wednesday night with information as to the owner, type of plane and wing spread.

The flying contest will be divided into classes for planes with rubber band motors according to wing spread. The divisions are 20 inches, 21 to 36 inches, and over 37 inches. The gasoline motor powered planes will compete in one class but the motor run will be limited to 20 seconds. Both rubber band and gasoline motor planes will be hand launched.

Winners in the various divisions will receive a free airplane ride from West Brothers Air service from the Outagamie county airport. The contests probably will be held Saturday at Whiting airport.

Mayor Kalfahs Urges Support Of County Fair

Business Places are Requested to Close Thursday Afternoon

Neenah — Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs today issued a proclamation urging the people of Neenah to support the annual 1940 Winnebago county fair Thursday which has been designated as Neenah-Menasha day.

The mayor also requested that business places close on Thursday afternoon to allow the people to attend.

The proclamation is as follows: "Whereas, our Winnebago county fair is now being held; and "Whereas, this fair is one of the most outstanding of county fairs, being very educational, instructive and entertaining in exhibiting the products of our county; and "Whereas, Thursday, Aug. 29, has been officially designated as Neenah-Menasha day;

"Now, therefore, I respectfully urge your support of our fair, and that insofar as possible that business cease on the afternoon of Aug. 29 so that our people will be given the opportunity to participate in said Neenah-Menasha day at the Winnebago county fair."

Omro Is Voted League Crown

Winnebagoland Loop Decides Not to Make Up Postponed Games

WINNEBAGOLAND LEAGUE	W.	L.
Omro	9	2
Oshkosh Unions	8	3
Oshkosh Shippers	8	3
Rosendale	5	7
Menasha Eagles	4	6
Berlin	2	9

Menasha — Omro was awarded the Winnebagoland Baseball league championship for 1940 at a meeting of representatives of all teams in the league Monday night at Eagles hall. Omro has led the league all season.

League representatives decided not to make an effort to play the games postponed because of rain during the past summer. At least five games of the 15 game schedule were washed out because of rain. In spite of several double-headers, all teams in the league have from two to five games left unplayed.

The Menasha Eagles finished in fifth place in the final standings with four victories and six defeats. The Menasha nine defeated Berlin twice, Rosendale once, and Oshkosh shippers once. They lost three games to the Oshkosh Unions, two to the Oshkosh shippers and one to Omro.

The league season will close with a game between the All-Stars of the league against Omro at the Menasha baseball park Sunday. H. Sonnenleitner, manager of the second-place Oshkosh Unions, will handle the All-Stars. Each team in the league will select four players and Sonnenleitner will pick his team from that group.

Carl Meyer of Menasha has been selected as one umpire for the game while others will be Morrissey, Gunther, and Woldt.

Fritsch Pigeons Win Sunday Race

Menasha — More than 100 birds of the Tri-City Pigeon club were released at Neillsville Sunday, with birds owned by Howard Fritsch finishing first and second again. A close third was a bird entered by Joe Schreiber.

The birds were shipped to Neillsville by express Saturday and were to be released at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Because of bad weather conditions they were held over until 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Many of the birds did not return until Monday due to the late start and bad weather.

Other contestants who entered birds in the race Sunday were Clarence Gulickson, Walter Dombrski, Syl Yanggen, Sonny Kojasinski, Stanley Novakowski, Joseph Schutkowski, Stanley Ulanowski, Ben Kosiorok, and Ted Holowski, all of Menasha.

The next race will be from Neillsville again but members of the club hope that it will be under better weather conditions.

Crowley Picks Committees of Menasha Lions

Appointments for Year Are Made as Regular Meetings are Resumed

Menasha — Committees for the Menasha Lions club were named by M. F. Crowley, president, Monday noon at Hotel Menasha as the club resumed regular meetings following the summer recess. Al Stierman and Allan Adams were named program chairmen for September.

One of the most important activities of the Lions is sight conservation and blind work. Named to that committee were Dr. Leonard Shemanski, chairman; Dr. Frederick C. 2 Paralysis Cases Are Reported; Mild Type, Official Says

Menasha — Two cases of infantile paralysis were reported in the Twin Cities this morning, one in Menasha and one in Neenah. The case in Menasha was the fourth within a week to be placed under quarantine by H. O. Haugh, city health officer. The attacks have been light and have affected youngsters between 2 and 12 years of age. The first case in Menasha was reported last Tuesday while other cases were reported Thursday and Saturday.

Dr. F. O. Brunchhorst, Neenah health officer, said that the case reported this morning in Neenah is a very mild one. Four cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in Neenah, one in July and three in August. However, only one case is active now and is under quarantine. A quarantine of 21 days is enforced whenever a case is reported. Two of the Neenah patients are at the Wisconsin General hospital at Madison.

Juvenile Day School Opening Next Tuesday

Menasha — The Menasha vocational juvenile day school will open next Tuesday, Sept. 3, according to S. E. Crockett, director of vocational and adult education. All boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18 years who are not enrolled in some public, private or parochial school must register at the vocational school.

Registration will be at 8 o'clock on the opening day of school for new students at the vocational school office. Regular vocational school students will report directly to their class rooms.

Regularly indentured, electrical apprentices will report at 1 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. Printing apprentices will report at 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Plumbing apprentices will start their work at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Sept. 4, Carpentry apprentices will report on Monday, Sept. 3, at 1 o'clock.

The adult day and evening classes will begin Monday, Oct. 7.

Outing for Junior Chamber Postponed

Neenah — The Neenah Junior Chamber of Commerce picnic which was scheduled for this evening at High Cliff has been postponed, Norman Greenwood, president, reported today. The outing, which will be for members and their wives and friends, will be held in a couple of weeks.

Arnmann Will Judge Horse Races at Fair

Neenah — E. C. Arnmann, Neenah, is one of the three judges of the harness races this week at the Winnebago county fair. The races will be conducted for three days, and Dr. William S. Barnes and Frank Kirk, Oshkosh, are the other judges.

Menasha Keglers Prepare for Opening of 1940-41 Season

Menasha — Keglers of Menasha are starting to plan for the opening of league seasons next month. Two groups have scheduled organization meetings tonight while others will follow in the next two weeks.

The Hendy Recreation Men's league will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Hendy alleys. H. Asmus is the president of the league and Earl Thorson is the secretary and treasurer. The league again will bowl in two shifts on Thursday nights. At least 18 teams are expected to compete.

The Hendy Women's league also will have its organization meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Hendy alleys. Last year the league had 16 teams with 12 competing on Wednesday night and the final four rolling their lines Thursday night. The Germania League also will have its organization meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Hendy alleys. H. Asmus is the president of the league and Earl Thorson is the secretary and treasurer. The league again will bowl in two shifts on Thursday nights. At least 18 teams are expected to compete.

Girl Scouts to Begin Season In September

Five Troops, Brownie Packs Will Resume Regular Activities

Neenah — Girl Scouts of Neenah and Menasha will begin their fall and winter season in mid-September when the five troops of the Twin Cities and the Brownie Packs start regular meetings after a summer of camps and outings.

Troop 1, sponsored by St. Thomas Episcopal church, and captained by Lucille Rusch will hold its first meeting Sept. 10. Over 32 girls are enrolled in Troop 1, members of which returned last weekend from Camp Shaginappi.

Troop 2, sponsored by First Congregational church, will meet Sept. 9. Mrs. Russell Anderson is captain. Members held their summer camp at Camp Rokillo near Keil, Brownie Pack 1, sponsored by the Menasha church, will start its fall and winter activity about the middle of next month also. Miss Alice Strong is leader, assisted by Mrs. Louis Schmidt. Troop 4 is to be organized at First Congregational church this fall under the leadership of Miss Elaine Gear. The troop will be for older girls.

Sponsored by PTA — Troop 3, captained by Miss Jeanette Bylow, and sponsored last year by the Washington Parent Teacher association, will be sponsored by the Kimberly PTA this fall and meetings will be held at the Kimberly school. The first meeting will be Sept. 11. Troop 3 camped at Lost Lake in the Nicolet Forest this summer.

A new troop which will be Troop 5 for the Twin Cities, will be organized under the sponsorship of the Washington association. Miss Leona Yost and Miss Jane Anderson may be the leaders. The Brownie Pack 2, captained by Miss Betty Ward, will start its activities about two weeks after school starts. Pack 2 will be sponsored by Washington PTA also. The Brownie Pack members held their camp in conjunction with the Twin City Y.M.C.A. Girl Reserve camp at Hiwela near Saxeville this month.

Homemakers' Club Will Launch Season With September Tea

Menasha — The Homemakers' Club, sponsored by the Menasha School of Adult and Vocational Guidance, under the leadership of Miss Amy Horn, will begin activity at the school next month with the first meeting a group gathering tentatively set for Sept. 17. A tea will feature the opening meeting.

Five groups of 20 members each will be organized within the general club and the smaller units will meet during the third and fourth weeks of each month. The smaller units will study that particular phase of homemaking in which the members are most interested.

Clothing and textiles will be the study topic for the general meeting in September, foods and nutrition for November, family relationships in January, art in relation to the home in March and consumer education in May.

Mrs. S. E. Crockett, Mrs. Ed Fox, Mrs. John Novakowski, Mrs. Don Christensen and Mrs. Robert Malinowski are members of the program committee for the fall and winter. Mrs. Ralph Moon will be chairman of the hospitality committee assisted by Mrs. Betty Thompson, Mrs. L. D. Costello and Mrs. W. W. Laemmrich.

Mrs. H. O. Griffith is chairman of the tea committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Ed Scovronski, Mrs. Nora Fahrkrug, Mrs. A. Gothe and Mrs. H. Schmalz.

Three Sailboat Races To Conclude Season

Neenah — The Neenah Nodaway Yacht club's sailboat racing season will close this weekend with three post-season races scheduled.

Saturday afternoon's race will be on the triangular course, while Sunday morning's event will be a windward-leeward race, and Monday morning's race also will be on the triangular course.

All classes will compete in the three events, including Classes A, E, C, X-Boats, Cubs, National and Open class.

9 Youths Join Army Air Corps

36 Enlistments are Recorded at Menasha Office This Month

Menasha — Nine youths enlisted in the air corps and left for their stations from the Menasha recruiting office Monday, according to E. L. Friday, recruiting officer stationed at the Menasha post office. The youths were assigned to stations at Mantout and Belleville, Ill., and Selfridge field, Michigan.

Those who enlisted Monday included Gordon W. Eggert and Kenneth G. Abraham, New London; Kenneth E. Girard, 420 Second street, Neenah; Donald H. Ashel, 526 N. Vine street, Appleton; Maurice J. Biersteker, Little Chute; Mark S. Brisco, White Lake, Wis., and three from Oshkosh, Anthony C. Nett, Clarence J. Kiel, and John M. O'Brien.

The enlistments Monday bring the total to 36 for the month while during July there were 21 enlistments out of the Menasha office. However, out of the August enlistments, only 11 are in the new quota of 100 enlistments for the air corps assigned to the Menasha office.

Only a high school education is needed for enrollment in the air corps and a second class air mechanic receives $72 per month, room, board and clothes while those of higher rank receive more.

An additional 200 men, who need not be high school graduates, are needed in the anti-aircraft and other departments of the army. Volunteers may select any branch of the service in which there are vacancies.

Push Hunt for Airport Site

Aviation Committee To Ask Land Owners For Their Final Offers

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau
Oshkosh—The Winnebago county aviation committee continued its search for an airport site north of Oshkosh Monday and Henry Schultz, Neenah committee chairman, announced that the committee was advised that there are several available farms on county trunk G just south of Gillingham's corner.

Owners of the Gibson farm have indicated that they are willing to sell their land to the county for establishment of a Class C county airport, Schultz said. He said that the committee plans to look at the 280 acre farm land owned by Joseph, John, and W. J. Gibson, located in the town of Vinland on county trunk G.

Because several members of the county board voiced their objection to what they contended were "unreasonable" prices asked for the land adjacent to the Oshkosh Airport, Inc., and which the aviation committee recommended the county purchase, a final "price asking" tour will be conducted, Schultz stated, to determine the lowest prices the owners of this desired land are willing to accept.

Since the county board has instructed the aviation committee to call a special meeting of the board just as soon as it has a site report ready, members of the committee have indicated that they are anxious to complete their tour of inspection of the county and to begin work on other phases of the airport establishment.

Inspect Farms

Oshkosh — Winnebago county aviation committee inspected farm lands north of the city, west of Zinland road, yesterday as a possible site of the proposed Class C county airport. Farmers interviewed and the number of acres of the committee desired from each were as follows: W. F. Person 154, George Gallinger 160, William Grundman 100, Charles Nolte 40, William Wolfe, 40.

The committee contacted also four farmers who own land north of Oshkosh off County trunk GG, Andrew Yost, Albert Carrow, Grover Cowling and Max Broch.

D. Ciske Is Captain Of 2nd Ward Hawks, Junior Grid Team

Menasha — The Second Ward Hawks are preparing for the Junior football season. D. Ciske was elected captain of the team on the second ballot Monday night, edging D. Morgan for the honor.

C. J. Ciske, coach of the squad, has called the first practice for Sept. 4. The Hawks are preparing for the season by cutting the long grass on their playing field at the Tissue mills with Coach Ciske, E. V. Evans, assistant coach, C. Evans, J. Evans H. Moran and J. Laux swinging the scythe.

Members of the squad include D. Ciske and H. Moran at ends, C. Evans, J. Evans, and R. Edwards at tackles, J. Williams, D. Laux, and W. Edwards at guards, and J. Spilski and D. Moran at center, with Eugene Weeks as a reserve line candidate. Backfield candidates are Al Kolinski, J. Laux, W. Dorow, and E. Heckner.

The team is seeking to arrange games with K. Folt's Junior Rockets, the South Side Athletic club of Appleton, and the Menasha Grove All-Stars. Players of the team are under 15 years of age.

Doty Tennis Club To Sponsor Tournament

Neenah—The Doty Tennis club will sponsor a men's singles tournament this week at the club courts providing the rain stops. Trophies will be awarded the champion and runner-up.

TEAMED IN 'MARYLAND'—Brenda Joyce and John Payne, two of Hollywood's newest shining lights, share the romantic interest in the technicolor production of "Maryland," which will start at the Appleton theater Saturday. Also featured in the superb cast are such well-known favorites as Walter Brennan, Fay Bainter, Charlie Ruggles, Hattie McDaniel and Marjorie Weaver.

Blind Bogey Tournament on Club Program for Guest Day

Neenah — A blind bogey tournament and prizes for low gross, low putts and low score on blind holes will feature golf activities as guest day is observed Wednesday for the weekly ladies day at Ridgeway Golf club. Luncheon will be served at 12:45 and bridge will be played during the afternoon. Mrs. A. W. August, Mrs. William Daniel and Mrs. Norman Greenwood plan golf activities for the guests day and Mrs. Ira Clough, Mrs. G. W. Leomans and Mrs. Harold Meyer will be in charge of bridge. The luncheon will be planned by Mrs. Louis Dennis and Mrs. Erna Schierl. Mrs. Alfred Dieckhoff, Mrs. Earl Stroetz, and Mrs. Edward Fox are members of the flower committee.

Ladies Society of First Evangelical church will meet at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the summer home of Mrs. J. D. Schmelein. A potluck supper will follow the meeting.

John Priester and son, Jack, have returned from an eastern trip that took them into eastern United States and Canada.

Miss Helen Braemer, who will be married Saturday to George A. French, Milwaukee, was entertained at a miscellaneous shower Monday evening with Miss Katherine Blohm, Chestnut street, acting as hostess. Bridge and rummy were played by the guests and prizes went to Mrs. Richard Zwickey, Miss Marian Blohm and Miss Ruth Kraemer. Mrs. Ed Braemer won the prize in rummy and Mrs. A. Jacobson received the guest prize.

Miss Mabel Jensen and Miss Bernice Ulrich are planning for a business girls' golf day at Ridgeway Golf club at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. Following the golf, supper will be served at the club house.

Mothers' club of First Methodist church will meet at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Riverside park for a picnic and social.

Members of the drill team of the Neenah Eagle Auxiliary and their husbands sponsored a surprise party Sunday afternoon and evening at the cottage of Mrs. Hattie Stumart, Rickers Bay, for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Seyler in observance of the Seyler's twelfth wedding anniversary. Cards and games were played during the afternoon and evening with a 6:30 potluck supper featuring the party. Prizes in Communities Develop At Expense of Others, Wilson Says at Neenah

Neenah—Lucius C. Wilson, Chicago, professional chamber of commerce organizer, told Neenah business men at a dinner meeting sponsored last night at the Valley Inn by the Neenah Chamber of Commerce what chambers can do for their communities.

He said that the trend in increase of population in most cities in the United States has ceased, such as in Chicago. Until now, there was a 4 per cent normal growth in most communities, and when this condition was prevalent, there was an increase in business, the organizer stated.

But when one community grows now it is at the expense of another city, Wilson stated, pointing out the necessity for chambers of commerce to do their utmost to make their communities more attractive.

Following the dinner meeting, which was attended by about 50 Neenah business men, Wilson outlined a plan for a membership drive at a meeting of the board of directors of the Neenah organization.

Midget Circuit Leaders to Meet

Midget League	W.	L.	Pct.
Fourth Ward	3	0	1.000
Second Ward	3	0	1.000
First Ward	2	2	.500
Third Ward	0	3	.000
Fifth Ward	0	3	.000

Menasha — The two top teams in the Midget league will meet Wednesday afternoon at the baseball park for the second half championship of the league. If the Fourth ward defeats the Second ward, the Fourth ward will hold the league championship as the Junior Blacks won the first round honors by defeating the Second ward in a play-off.

However, if the Second ward wins Wednesday, they will take the second round honors and a play-off for the league championship will be necessary. E. Konetzke will do the pitching for the Fourth ward with K. Mattern or C. Kargus catching. The Second ward will have G. Kluba on the mound with Birling catching.

Wednesday morning the two cellar teams will battle for fourth place. Neither has scored a victory in the second round. The Fifth ward probably will use Westenberg on the mound with Wenz or Mueller catching. Fred Rasmussen will pitch for the Third ward with H. Kuester catching.

Clintonville Pastor Attends Conference Of Methodist Church

Clintonville — The Rev. W. H. Wiese, pastor of the Clintonville and Marion Methodist churches, went to Oshkosh Tuesday to attend the Wisconsin Conference of Methodist churches at which Bishop Ralph S. Cushman of St. Paul will preside. Sessions will be held at the First Methodist church and will open Tuesday evening, when the speaker will be Dr. Horace Greely Smith, president of Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill.

Pastors attending the conference will supply the pulpits in various Oshkosh churches Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Wiese is scheduled to preach at the First Baptist church.

Also attending the Wisconsin conference will be Albert Fritz, lay delegate from the local congregation. A group of young people from this city is expected to attend the special youth services on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wartnabe of LaCrosse visited Saturday at the home of the former's uncle, F. D. Wartnabe and family. The former taught in Clintonville High school a number of years ago.

August Kruse, Jr., of this city has returned home from an extended motorcycle trip through the west with Walter Lewis of New London. The two young men rode on one machine and covered 8,500 miles. Leaving here July 27, they were gone nearly four weeks. They took the southern route to California, stopping at Grand Canyon and Boulder dam. They also climbed Pike's peak with their motorcycle. After spending three days in Los Angeles, they took a three-day trip through the Yosemite valley and then northward on the Redwood highway to Tacoma and Spokane, Wash. On the return trip they stopped for sightseeing at Yellowstone park, the Black Hills and Mount Rushmore in Dakota.

Two-thirds of the entire population of Australia has savings accounts of about $1,000 per capita.

Neenah Pastor to Talk At Bible Conference

Neenah — The Rev. W. G. Wittenborn, pastor of the First Fundamental church, will be the guest speaker at a 1-day Bible conference at Dalton Thursday. The Rev. Mr. Wittenborn is national field secretary for the Fundamental Churches of America.

Club to Hear Chief

Neenah — Police Chief Irving Stulp will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Neenah Kiwanis club Wednesday at the Valley Inn.

MovieLand Its People and Products

IDA LUPINO—Member of a family which has been famous on the London stage for generations—won her successes there, and on Broadway, strictly by her own ability. One of her latest American screen triumphs was "The Light That Failed." She will be seen next in Warners' "They Drive by Night" with George Raft, Ann Sheridan, Humphrey Bogart, Gale Page, Alan Hale and Roscoe Karns.

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood—So many times, I've said that luck is a prime factor in screen success. Talent, personality and courage are stepping stones to fame—but before a newcomer can display these assets, he must get an opportunity. That's where luck comes in, and let me cite an example:

During a recent yachting trip with Edgar Bergen, he told me his plans to produce pictures for these nickel-in-the-slot movie machines. Bergen, who is more than an entertainer in that he has really important business ideas, said he wanted to produce a series with puppet characters. His problem, he declared, was to find lifelike puppets.

That was my cue to mention a couple of college kids whose act (they call it "The Humanettes") I'd seen a time or two at nite clubs and theatres. They were, I hazarded, exactly what Edgar needed, and I was able to tell him where they were appearing.

Today came a letter from the boys. Bergen's first act on his return ashore was to catch their performance. He liked them, and now it looks like they're going to get together on a business deal. This should be the break that'll lead the young men to fame.

My point? Well, I'm certainly not boasting that it was I who gave the boys a boost. Any other fellow in my position would have done the same. I'm only trying to prove that it was simply good luck that Bergen happened to mention his plan in my presence and that I knew of The Humanettes. If those boys go on from here, they can thank Dame Fortune for butting in at the right moment.

Hitler and Mussolini Would Like to Work a Triple Play

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer
Washington—By focusing world attention on the battle for Britain, the axis partners are screening off their broader strategy—a triple play against all the great strongholds of the British Empire within their reach.

These are: The British Isles themselves, a natural fortress for blocking all of Western Europe; (2) Gibraltar, the route of supplies from South America for Central Europe; and (3) Suez, tourniquet against the Balkans and Eastern Europe.

Naturally the British Isles must be the No. 1 objective, but undercover reports reaching Washington indicate that both Hitler and Mussolini consider their battle plans against Suez and Gibraltar of equal immediate importance.

The German high command must take into account the possibility that the British can perform a miracle and turn back the first attack against them. The main attack this year, thus leaving the British blockade intact for another season. That might mean starvation among populations at Hitler's back.

Therefore, regardless of the battle for Britain, the axis partners must weave other strings for their bow. These are attacks against Gibraltar and Suez, where fighting is possible all year round.

Fleet Bases The Goal

If these attacks should succeed, and the British fleet repair bases be destroyed at Gibraltar and Suez, axis strategy would be temporarily successful, even if the first battle for Britain were lost. The repair bases, with their oil from Palestine and naval stores from Gibraltar, are what make the British fleet in the Mediterranean self-sufficient.

These advantages would follow successful onslaught:

1. North African wheat and other supplies could resume their normal flow to Europe.
2. Egyptian cotton and other African raw materials could again be shipped to continental factories.
3. Fuel could again be siphoned into Europe by the normal tanker routes from Russia and Rumania.
4. The South Atlantic would be again open to axis trade.

It is an open military secret that the German army no longer considers Gibraltar impregnable against combined attack from the land and air. Italy has the air force. The Spanish have the manpower. The Germans have the armor.

Plan Concert For Red Cross

New Civic Orchestra At Clintonville Will Play at High School

Clintonville — A benefit concert for the American Red Cross will be played at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the high school auditorium by the Clintonville Civic orchestra, one of this city's newest music organizations.

The orchestra, directed by Russell Shannon, has about thirty members. Its members range from 12 to 50 years of age. Officers of the group are G. D. Simonds, president; J. R. Shannon, secretary-treasurer, and Russell Knister, librarian.

The first concert will be featured by a violin solo by Milton Nelson, a graduate of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music, who has been taking post-graduate work during the last year at the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y. Several vocal numbers are also being secured for the program. Ticket sales for the benefit concert are in charge of Mrs. A. G. Bohr, president of the local Red Cross chapter.

Miss Evelyn Starstead, librarian at East Chicago, Ind., visited Friday and Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brooks on Dodge street. She was accompanied to her home at Superior by Miss Myrtle Brooks, who will spend this week there. Miss Starstead was formerly the librarian in this city. Miss Brooks will return soon to her position as English teacher in the Appleton high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mathis of Gillett were Sunday guests of Miss Kathleen Stanley in this city. Mrs. Mathis was a former teacher at Oconomowoc, where Miss Stanley teaches.

The J. C. Penney Co. will be closed Wednesday until noon, preparing for their half dollar half day event. See their ad Tuesday night.

PLAYMATES KEEP HER BUSY—Marlene, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Handschke, 613 Oshkosh street, has more than her hands full trying to keep six playful little cocker spaniels under control. The pups are six weeks old and Marlene is going to lose her playmates as her father is beginning to give them to new owners. (Post-Crescent Photo.)

Firemen Setting Stage for Labor Day Celebration

3-Day Program Will Be Climaxed Monday With Parade of Floats

New London — Despite recent discouraging rains, the New London Fire Department began optimistically this week to set the stage at Hatten Memorial park for their second annual Labor day homecoming next Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2.

Skerbeck's Great Northern shows will arrive in the city near the end of the week to set up rides including merry-go-round, ferris wheel, whip, kiddie cars, and pony rides. There will be five free acts every day featured by Tex Pierce and his horse show. Airplane rides also will be offered within the city limits.

Speakers, continuous music and refreshments will add to the program to keep something going on every minute. Dozens of concessions will line the midway.

The 3-day celebration will be climaxed on Labor day with a street parade in which industries, merchants and organizations will enter floats. The parade last year was one of the best in recent years and Harvey Greenlaw, general chairman, promises that this year's will be better.

Farmers Apply for AAA Soil Payments

New London — Applications for 1940 A.A.A. soil conservation payments were made by farmers of the New London area at the city hall Monday afternoon. Since Saturday the Waupaca county soil conservation committee headed by Almo Larson, chairman, has completed the applications of 2,000 farmers. They will complete the circuit of the county today.

About the same total sum as last year, approximately $200,000, will be paid to the 3,500 farmers of the county participating in the program this year, according to Larson. Checks for the individual payments will be received after the applications have cleared the various government offices.

Borden Plant Filling War Order for Britain

New London — A war order for 30,000 cases of evaporated milk for Great Britain is in the process of fulfillment at the Borden Milk Products plant here. The canned milk is being shipped in special wire-bound boxes at the rate of about two carloads per day and about a third of the 30-car order has been completed. Similar orders have been distributed to Borden plants throughout the country, according to G. A. Wells, superintendent. In size, the shipment compares with the average large order received by the local plant.

Bunch Games In City Loop

Milks-Hashouse Tilt, Rained Out Last Night, Slated for Thursday

New London — Rain last night canceled City Commercial league softball games and if weather permits the league will bunch up the remaining games this week to clean up the schedule. The game slated between the Pure Milks and Hashouse last night will be played at the city ball park Thursday night. Tonight at 6 o'clock the Milks will play a postponed game with Miller High Lites at the ball park while the Senior Men's league occupy the Washington High school diamond.

Wednesday night the Pure Oils will finish against the High Lites at the high school.

Friday night the Oils and Pure Milks will decide the first half tie under the lights at the city ball park. The starlight game will start about 8 o'clock.

It's Vocation, Not Vacation For 30 Million U. S. Children

BY JOHN GROVER
Washington—Grandpops' schoolmarm wouldn't recognize the 30,000,000 kids trekking back to 275,000 American schools for the 1940 scholastic year.

In two or three generations, American schools have changed mightily. Growth and natural evolution were responsible for part of it. The depression had a profound impact on the young 'uns. Currently, the war and world conditions are influencing the schools.

Kids who scrambled out of the classroom last June with the map of Europe firmly memorized are returning to find their geography scrambled beyond recognition. Political science, economics and history all have been affected.

All over the country, as this September sees the country in a gigantic effort to arm for defense, new emphasis is being laid on the teaching of Americanism.

Defense Vocations
The new school year's most important development is expansion of the federally-supported vocational education plan, part of the national defense program. Existing facilities in 1,200 schools will be utilized to

Sisters Return to Darbo to Open Fall Classes at School

Darbo — Sisters Mary Thomsine, Alfreda, Cyrella and Genevieve of St. Francis Convent, Bay Settlement, returned last week to take charge of Holy Angels school for the current school term. Sister Thomsine will teach the grammar grades; Sister Alfreda, the intermediate, and Sister Cyrella, the primary grades. Sister Genevieve will be the housekeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. William McIntyre and daughters Patricia and Janet and Mrs. E. Ellison of Chicago spent several days here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Wittmann and family.

Howard and Junior Hoelzel of Nichols and Carol and Ronny Hoelzel of Appleton spent the last week here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoelzel.

Janet Esser, Hartford and Lucille O'Bright, Neenah, spent Tuesday here as the guests of LaVerne Hupfaut.

Mrs. Henry Hupfaut and Mrs. John Dietzen, Sr., attended the Eagles Auxiliary party given at the home of Mrs. Louis Eisch Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dietzen, Sr., entertained at a 1 o'clock dinner, followed by cards at their home on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Peter Trausch and son Robert of Chicago. Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne and daughter Mary Ann, Neenah; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gloudeman and son Clarence, Little Chute; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kiefer; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bunks and sons Richard and Lester, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dietzen, Kimberly; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meltzer, Waverly Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dietzen, Mr. and Mrs. John Dietzen, Jr., and son Chester, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dietzen, Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Dietzen, Darbo.

Mahringer Funeral Is Held at Shawano

Hilbert — Funeral services for Mrs. Charles Mahringer, 53, of Shawano, were conducted at 1:30 Monday afternoon from the Shawano funeral home and 2 o'clock at the Lutheran church. Burial was in the Shawano cemetery.

Mildred Baldock Mahringer was born April 6, 1887, near Chilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldock. When a small child the family moved to Embarras and for more than 20 years Mrs. Mahringer had lived in Shawano. For the last nine weeks she had been a hospital patient where she was treated for heart disease. She died Saturday morning.

Survivors are the widower, one son, Roy of Shawano; two brothers, Ed and George Baldock of Chilton; three sisters, Mrs. Ed Boetcher of Appleton; Mrs. William Krause and Mrs. Floyd Amel of Shawano; and a half sister, Lillie Baldock, of Denver, Colo.

British Children Wonder if All Americans are Wealthy

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER

New York —(U)—Here are some of the questions British children keep asking as they journey across the Atlantic to safety from their bombed homeland:

"Should we have left mummy and daddy?"

"Are Americans all rich like in the movies?"

"Will they like us?"

"Will they admire us?"

"What kind of things shall I tell them—about the bombs or not?"

Mrs. Evelyn Fayer Turner, granddaughter of Sir Joseph Fayer, who was surgeon to King Edward VII, and Lady Priscilla Norman—both crossed on the liner Samaria with 138 children as volunteer escorts—described the questions and said that the first night out "there was a little sniffling under the bed sheets."

Mrs. Turner and Lady Norman are two of the hundreds of British women who have volunteered to shuttle across the Atlantic, without pay, to accompany British refugee children to the United States.

Each of the escorts has 15 children in her charge. Actual care of the younger children is by nurses and by the ship's stewards.

As Mrs. Turner sees the escort's task, "the ocean trip bridges the gap between the old world and the new. We should try to make that bridge as pleasant as possible."

Lady Norman felt that her personal task as an escort was "preparing their minds to equip themselves to hold up our point of view and honor, and to come back after the war to help re-build the world."

"I called them my little ambassadors," said Lady Norman, a grandmother, handsomely garbed in black.

"My last words to my group were: 'Children, don't forget we must never let down England. Come back, and help reconstruct the world.'"

She said she had provided the children with books about Washington, "and how we lost America through our folly years ago."

"There must be greater liaison work between England and America," she added, "we must understand each other, and have Ameri-

Draft Bill Overlooks Need For Work of Local Boards

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON

Washington, D. C.—The strength of the World War selective service was that it followed the essential of the American system of local self-government to the last letter. General Enoch Crowder used to require of every officer detailed or assigned to the judge advocate general's department, a study of the errors of conscription that had made it a stench in the nostrils of Englishmen and Americans. The trouble had been the very errors of government that had brought the American revolution—distant and almost tyrannical bureaucracy invading the local affairs of an independent people with cast-iron rules for their conduct and with no regard for local problems.

That was what made the drafts in the war among the states in both the federal and confederate governments a fiasco: When General Crowder detailed me to draw up a plan for the 1917 draft, his only instructions were "reverse every one of those errors."

The essence of that reversal will be found in Section 4 of the 1917 selective service act. It took every power for the classification, taking or deferment of men for military service out of the hands of any centralized official or bureaucracy and lodged it solely, exclusively or finally in the local or district boards of neighbors of the registrants, except for a very limited right of appeal.

It is impossible to over-emphasize the necessity and the healthy effect of that. The printer's ink was not dry on the paper of the law before every congressman and political official in Washington was deluged with demands from constituents to do this or that for the son of Mrs. A., Mrs. B. and so on throughout the alphabet. I have enjoyed few opportunities (and neither, I was told, did any member of congress or of the executive departments) in the preparation of a painstaking letter explaining that there was no authority in Washington or elsewhere, except in these neighborhood committees, who had the slightest power to prefer any man either through fear or favor.

Tens of thousands of copies of that letter were reproduced at the request of harassed congressmen. It relieved them from the most hateful responsibility to extract unjust special privileges in return for possible votes.

It was told that the system would fail because the local selective service boards with so much power would be even more subject to local influence. The record in millions of cases will bear me out that no such thing happened—or could happen. We avoided that by the device of the great Washington lottery which established the "order numbers."

The job was done in a gold fish bowl. If Mrs. Smith's son's name came up as next for service, the eyes of every other mother of a son with a later order number were on the selection board. If the first boy got off unjustly, their sons were that much nearer to the gun. For that reason, our difficulty turned out to be not that the exemptions were too liberally or unfairly applied. They were applied too strictly in almost every one of more than 4,000 local boards.

The present legislation in congress overlooks this absolutely vital point entirely. The jurisdiction and powers of the boards are not fixed by the statute, but left to a political discretion in Washington. It is an indication of the hasty way in which the bill was prepared—by a group of New York lawyers, without enough experience in the draft.

The war department had been studying the 1917 selective service system for 23 years, hearing all veteran criticism and advice and preserving all principles that had proved to be correct. The department bill was largely short-circuited.

This is no trivial detail. It is a basic fault in the Burke-Wadsworth bill that must be remedied before it passes.

He'll Need Stepladder

Holly Springs, Miss.—(U)—Experimenting in 1937, Farmer Abner Hill planted a tiny packet of a new type of seed someone gave him. Four huge stalks of cotton, one with 125 bolls, came up. He picked four pounds from the stalks and sated the seed. Hill reported.

By this year, Hill had saved enough seed to plant 16 acres. The young cotton is already six feet tall and covered with blossoms. The average mature stalk stands about three feet high and has 10 bolls.

The number one 1940 National Political issue is: Are we to continue this trend toward Totalitarianism or return to Freedom? Hitler claims Totalitarianism, this popular bait of the dictators sweeping the world today, is to continue for the next thousand years!

Totalitarianism is regulation. The government owns the production and does the thinking. The distribution of the wealth is by the government. In a totalitarian economy the reward is according to pull and not production. With effort toward pull and not production the people starve because the dictator machine has all the pull. To keep people liking starvation the dictators form the secret police, controlled courts and control of the press.

The dictators got to power by majority vote. They promised the majority voters the wealth of the country by the simple method of regulation. The people could take from the rich.

Results of totalitarianism is always war and starvation. The dictators cannot take the blame for starvation so they start war on other countries. They say the riches of the world belong to the strong. Freedom is opportunity and the ownership of your thoughts and efforts. In a free economy you have by the sweat of your brow.

The results of freedom are peace, plenty and an industrial system so powerful no dictator will ever be so foolish as to attack. God Bless Freedom! It made and will keep America great.

Former Menasha, Lawrence Star Is Making Good With Milwaukee

'Obbie' Novakofski
One of Chief Chiefs

BY PETE WALCH

Weyauwega—One of the men up on whom the Big Chief, Coach Ivan "Tiny" Cahoon of the Milwaukee Chiefs, will rely during the coming American Professional league football season will be Albert "Obbie" Novakofski, former Menasha High school and Lawrence college grid star. Obbie has been working at the important left halfback position in the Notre Dame style of play that Cahoon teaches, and the big mentor of the Milwaukee club is confident that Novakofski's star will twinkle brightly this season and for several years to come.

Although his passing has been handicapped a bit while in training at Weyauwega, Obbie's ability in that respect is widely known but it has been his hard running, head-up defensive play, and real enthusiasm ever since the Chiefs have been here that has caught Cahoon's eye. Tiny really wanted to get hold of Novakofski. When Obbie played with Menasha High school and Cahoon coached at West DePere, the two were rivals. Later, when the boy was a senior at Lawrence playing his last year of college football, Cahoon was coach at Monmouth college. Lawrence won that year 18 to 8, largely through the brilliant work of the left halfback, and Cahoon never forgot.

Tried Out With Packers

After Novakofski's graduation from Lawrence in 1939, he signed up for a trial with the Green Bay Packers, but the jump was just a little too much.

As Obbie puts it: "You can't expect a chap who has played only small college football to jump right into the big time, as the Packers play the game. There's too big a gap to bridge in one season. Quite often you see a player from a Big Ten school or some other large university make the grade from college ball to the pro game right away, but the lads from the bigger schools have the advantage of tougher competition, better coaching, and a more thorough understanding of the finer points of the game.

OB'BIE NOVAKOFSKI

When the Packers left Novakofski drift away he signed up with the Kenosha Cardinals and played all of last season with that club in the old American pro league. He had a great year, too, so good, in fact, that the Chicago Cardinals wanted him to sign a contract for the last few games of 1939 and for 1940. However, Kenosha saw to it that Obbie didn't get away.

Pleased Cahoon

This year, however, the former Lawrence star and Tiny Cahoon really wanted to work with each other, and when Novakofski was offered a Chief contract, he jumped at the opportunity. Ever since coming to camp on Thursday of last week he has been one of the most willing and consistent workers on the squad, and Cahoon is definitely pleased with his ability, his willingness, and his spirit.

Right now he weighs 170 pounds, which fits in well with his 5 foot, 9 1/2 inch frame. He may gain a few pounds now that cooler weather has arrived, for his regular playing weight is about 174, although he weighed 178 last year while with the Packers.

"I'm very well pleased at this chance to play with an up and coming pro club like the Milwaukee Chiefs," Obbie comments. "We've got a good club, fully as strong right now as the Columbus, Cincinnati, or St. Louis teams I played against a year ago in the American pro league, and I'm certain that we will have to be considered in any championship calculations this season."

Divot Diggings

By Dick Davis

Delicacy on the greens is the answer to low scores at New London's sporty Springvale Golf course which we toured Saturday. Our foursome found greens that were "greased lightning" personified, one of the boys putting from the edge of a green, going past the cup in the center and off the opposite edge. The greens bring out true ability, or lack of it, for the ball goes where and how a person hits it.

The short No. 3 hole was made doubly hard for the pin was at the front edge in the left corner of the green with a waiting sand trap just below. . . . There's plenty of trouble on No. 4 but club officials have taken pity on the wayward players and numbered many of the trees so it's easier to spot the balls. . . . Control is essential for most of the fairways are narrow and rolling. . . . There ought to be a law against those trees across No. 6 fairway. . . . We laid out a nice drive and got off a second shot that streaked dead for the green. . . . The ball tangled with the trees and wound up next to the fence. . . .

Dr. W. J. Frawley called his shot when he made a hole-in-one on No. 12 at Butte des Morts Golf-club Saturday. Dr. George T. Hegner led off with a beauty that dropped 6 inches from the cup. Dr. Frawley belittled his efforts and said, "Watch me!" He then proceeded to drill it in to the hole for an ace. Doc Hegner, thinking he had the hole cinched, stood aghast and it took the combined efforts and medical knowledge of Dr. Frawley, Dr. R. R. Lally and Dr. E. F. McGrath to prevent Hegner from suffering a complete collapse. Doc Hegner's only comment was—"You can't win."

R. H. Marston ran the gamut of golf scores in a match with Jerry Versteegen at Riverview recently.

He went out in a sizzling 38 and came in with a bulging 56. He won the match, though, so all was well.

They were turning "em away Saturday afternoon at Ridgeway Golf club, a record crowd taking part in a guest day.

Fred Steinke, he of the bare knees, turned in a 15 on the Butte des Morts practice green for a club record.

John Fourness and Rudy Vogt went to it for a fare-thee-well in their Riverview championship flight tournament match and were all even at the end of 18 holes, both stroking 79s. Darkness intervened and the match was continued another day, Rudy finally winning out.

Inclement weather has been cutting into patronage at all courses in Appleton and vicinity.

Heber H. Pelkey and Ken Dickinson are plugging for a tournament open to "old men with broken backs." Both have their backs taped up but, incidentally, are playing some of their best golf of the season. Pelkey recently carded 77 and Dickinson smacked a 75.

Tom Ryan was in the groove when he defeated Dr. D. M. Gallaher, a tough competitor, in a Riverview Class A match. Ryan had 45 and 39 for a 2-up decision.

Syl Schernick came within 4 inches of an ace on No. 17 at Butte des Morts.

Qualifying rounds for the Butte des Morts Golf club junior tournament must be played before Tuesday, Sept. 3. Pairings will be made in flights of 8.

Detroit Manager Thinks Team Still Has 'Good Chance'

Philadelphia—(AP)—Given a few "better breaks" Manager Del Baker thinks his Detroit Tigers have a "good chance" of ending out Cleveland for the American league pennant.

"I know our chances are good," he declared, after rain forced postponement of yesterday's game with the Athletics. "But so are those of the other contenders—especially New York."

Weak at the plate, Detroit dropped three straight games to the Yankees on the current eastern invasion.

As for Cleveland three games in front, Baker admits the Indians have an edge in pitching and a little tighter defense, "but beyond that everything favors the Tigers."

Beset all year with injuries, Detroit is still without the services of Charley Gehringer, veteran second baseman who pulled a muscle in his leg.

"We need Gehringer out there," Baker declared. "This young fellow Dutch Meyer we bought from Knoxville in the Southern league is filling in admirably, yet—" He didn't finish but you got the idea. "We've just about had all the bad breaks one team could get," smiled Del, "and it's not likely it can get much worse."

Blue Eagles to Open Workouts

Training Will Start Wednesday Night for Marine League Club

The Appleton Blue Eagles, members of the newly organized Eastern Marine semi-pro football league, will begin intensive drills at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at Foster field, Coach Ralph Barfell announced today.

With Appleton in the league are Manitowoc, Two Rivers, Sheboygan, and Fond du Lac. Barfell said today that an 8-game schedule, with open dates for several more, has been drawn up for the Appleton club.

The Blue Eagles of the South Side Athletic club, the junior Blue Eagles, will play preliminary games during the season, Barfell said. Two squads of the youngsters, resplendent in their flashy red, white, and blue uniforms, will perform briefly at Spencer field Sunday before the Appleton Papermakers start their game.

The SSAC last night voted to install floodlights on the McKinley school playgrounds. It was reported at the meeting that the membership in the club now stands at 151.

Mamie S. Root was appointed girls' athletic director. It is planned to outfit basketball teams this winter and to sponsor skating activities.

Meetings have been irregular during the summer months, but beginning Sept. 9 will be held every other Monday night.

Cedar Rapids Takes Over 3-Eye Loop Lead

By The Associated Press

Cedar Rapids just took it easy last night with an open date, but moved into first place in the Three Eye league anyway.

Evansville defeated league-leading Springfield for the third straight time, 6 to 5, in the only game of the night, dropping the Browns into second place a half game behind the Raiders.

Springfield erased Evansville's two-run lead with three runs in the seventh. But Chel Clemens banged out a two-run homer in the last of the ninth to produce the victory for Bob Coleman's team. The triumph also enabled Evansville to climb to within a half game of third-place Decatur.

None of the other teams was scheduled.

Clintonville—If it doesn't rain, the Clintonville Truckers will make their last home stand of the 1940 Northern State league season Wednesday evening when they are hosts to the Two River Polar Bears. This was one of the rained-out games scheduled two weeks ago. Last Sunday the game supposed to have been played at Seymour was called off because of wet grounds. Although the game Wednesday evening will be the last league game at home, the Truckers have arranged for several exhibition games, one is to be played Labor day night against the Ethiopian Clowns.

The invading Two Rivers ball club is in third place in the league standings and with a 2 to 1 victory over Seymour Saturday is still very much in the pennant race. By virtue of last Saturday's game, the Manitowoc Shipbuilders took over first place with 6 wins and two losses, followed by Seymour with 5 wins and 3 losses, and Two Rivers with 4 victories and 3 losses. The Truckers are in the cellar position.

Baseball fans always get their money worth when the Polar Bears and Truckers cross bats. The two teams have gone into more extra-inning tilts than any other two clubs in the league, playing two overtimes this season, one 10 and the other 12 frames. Last year the two squads batted it out for 21 innings before Clintonville won 1 to 0.

Manager Sid Felts of the Truckers has announced that it will be a revamped club to take the field Wednesday evening, with a lot of young blood added to the squad. Five youngsters from neighboring villages will step into the starting lineup. Felts used this squad against New London last week and, with the exception of one bad inning the fellows played heads-up ball. Felts will take the mound, with Jumbo Eland behind the batter. Jim Huffman will be at first, Eddie Flanagan at second, Shorty Nelson at short and Rollie Kerston at third. In the outfield, Butch Mader will be at left, Al Ankerson at center, and Murray Meyer at right field.

Rain Forces Changes In Booster Program

Events on Special Night Moved Back Because of Weather

Aug. 28—Paper Workers night, Appleton versus Fond du Lac (Doubleheader.)

Aug. 29—Track and Field night, Appleton versus Sheboygan.

Aug. 30—Bairry night, Appleton versus Sheboygan.

Aug. 31—Exhibition game, Ethiopian Clowns.

Sept. 1—Green Bay versus Appleton. (Afternoon.) Dancissak night (Green Bay-Appleton.)

Because of rain and wet grounds the Booster program planned by Appleton merchants in appreciation of daily baseball's contribution to the community has been revamped. All of the special nights have been shoved back a day. The Paper Workers night, scheduled for this evening, will be held Wednesday with the gates opening to holders of special tickets at 5:30 in the afternoon for free beer and lunch. A parade of mill workers will precede a Wisconsin State league doubleheader with Fond du Lac.

Track and Field night has been rescheduled for Thursday night and Darryl night has been moved to Friday night, originally Dancissak night. Dancissak night is scheduled for Sunday evening. A game Saturday with the Ethiopian Clowns has been included in the Booster program and an extra game has been scheduled with Green Bay Sunday afternoon. Admissions to all these games will carry chances on the gifts to be awarded patrons on Dancissak night, Sunday, Sept. 1.

Comiskey Flattens Siegel Substitute

Detroit—(AP)—Pat Comiskey of Paterson, N. J., knocked out Johnny McCarthy, Chicago, in 39 seconds of the second round of their scheduled eight-round heavyweight bout in Arena gardens here last night.

A right to the heart sent McCarthy to the canvas after he had been felled twice by Comiskey in the opening round. The Chicagoan, no match for his opponent, was unable to land a damaging punch.

McCarthy substituted for Don Siegel, former University of Michigan football tackle, when the latter refused to meet the New Jersey slugger.

GORDON "BUDDY" BORCHART—Currently holding down second base for the Appleton Papermakers is Gordon "Buddy" Borchart, 20-year-old Marion youth. . . . The son of Mr. and Mrs. William Borchart, he is a graduate of Marion High school where he started playing baseball in 1935. . . . Most of his experience has been confined to the Pigeon River Valley league but last year he performed with the LaCrosse State Teachers college champions. . . . Buddy is rather shy but admits winning 13 athletic letters in football, basketball, baseball, tennis and boxing while in high school. . . . He competed in four state cage tournaments and was a member of the Class C titlists in 1938. . . . Borchart was Waupaca county tennis champ two successive years, 1937-38, and will return to the nets if he is ineligible to play baseball at LaCrosse this year. . . . He'll be a junior. . . . Les Anson, former Marion High school coach and now of the Menasha High school athletic staff, brought Buddy down to be given the once-over by Manager Eddie Dancissak and he was signed within 5 minutes. He works into the Appleton aggregation smoothly and looks like a veteran outfielder. . . . Buddy's favorite diversion is listening to radio dance music. . . .

Trainer Isn't Sure Whether Greyhound Will Race Next Year

Syracuse, N. Y.—(AP)—Sep Palin, trainer-driver of Greyhound, the great trotter who won what was heralded as his "last race" yesterday, indicates there's considerable elasticity in that word "last."

After the eight-year-old gelding made his 1940 grand circuit clean-up complete with a two-out-of-three-heat victory in the $1,733 trotting club trot at the Syracuse fair grounds, Palin ventured: "Yep, it's his last race—this season."

Later he amended this with: "He'll race next year—if there are any races for him."

Greyhound lost his first heat of the year to the brilliant Peter Astra, but came back to win the next two in driving finishes. He first was "retired" in 1938.

Jones Drops to Fifth in Horseshoe Tourney

Des Moines, Iowa.—(AP)—Casey Jones of Waukesha, Wisconsin state champion, dropped to fifth place in the National horseshoe pitching tournament at the Iowa State fair yesterday, but toppled the leader, Fernando Isais, of Mexico City, D. F., out of first place.

Kennel Club Will Stage Annual Match On Sunday, Sept. 8

Purebred canine youngsters from two months to one year of age will make their show debut Sunday, Sept. 8, when judging of the Northeastern Wisconsin Kennel club annual summer puppy match gets underway at Eskdale stables, part of the Jack Kimberly estate on the shores of Lake Winnebago near Neenah.

An all-breed show, each breed will be divided into the following classes—two to four months, four to six months, six to nine months, and nine to twelve months. Trophies will be awarded to the various group winners, as well as to the best in show selection.

Previous puppy matches sponsored by the club have brought out nearly 100 entries of a couple dozen breeds, it was pointed out, and this event, coming at an ideal time of the year, may be expected to better past performances. Several states are usually represented among the young entries.

Spokesmen for the show committee explained that although it is a member match, dog owners may join the club when they enter their pups on the day of the show simply by paying the fee for membership during the final third of the year. Puppies may be entered from 9 o'clock Sunday morning until judging time, which is scheduled for 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Everything will be in readiness to handle spectators as well as exhibitors, club officers stated. Ample room for parking cars is being provided, bleachers are going to be set up around the judging ring, and a refreshment stand will be in operation.

Packers and Stars Ready for Combat

Chicago—(AP)—The scrumming is all over now and the collegians and their rivals, the Green Bay Packers, can relax until Thursday night when they clash in the seventh annual All-Star game in Soldier field.

Both squads, the All-Stars at Evanston, Ill., and the Packers at Green Bay, completed intensive drills Monday. Their remaining schedule consists only of routine workouts to keep their edge for the charity contest.

Eddie Anderson, head coach of the All-Stars, said yesterday that he was concerned now mainly with the mental condition of his squad. The Packers have been waiting for this date with the amateurs since 1937—when they lost to the All-Stars, 6-0.

The All-Stars will hold a light drill in Soldier field tonight. The Packers will arrive tomorrow.

Craftsmen to Golf At Butte des Morts

About 600 Masons have been invited to participate in the first annual Craftsmen's tournament at Butte des Morts Golf club Friday afternoon. The competition will be followed by a dinner and entertainment in the evening. Reservations are to be forwarded to Jack Taylor, greenskeeper at the club.

Church All-Stars Will Play SSAC

The Church league All-Stars will meet the South Side Athletic club at 6 o'clock Wednesday night at Roosevelt field, it was announced today.

Managers Mendy Zussman and Harold Krueger have asked the following softball players from the Church league to report: Bobby Rule, John Dutcher, Al Woehler, Bill Elias, John Horton, Glen Bowers, Clarence Hein, Welhouse, Bud Eastman, Don Paulie, Earl McKee, Joe Gregorius, Harvey Helms, C. Schwandt, Ben Blacher, and J. Berg.

Managers of the Church league All-Stars said they would like to play other all-star softball teams from the various leagues in the city.

Hogan Paid Off at Rate of $1.80 Per Stroke This Year

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York—(AP)—Steamboat Johnson, the veteran umpire, had his feelings hurt when he reached Birmingham the other day and found one of his books, "Standing the Gaff" being advertised for a dime. . . . One of Ben Hogan's admirers figures that prior to the start of the P.G.A. tourney yesterday, Hogan who has won $9,405 in purses this year, was paid off at the rate of $1.80 for every shot. . . . Tony Canzoneri is doing a little light work in the gymnas here, but he's promised he won't try another comeback. . . . The Tigers are growing about the American league schedule which gives the Indians four days' rest between two-three game series with Detroit.

Today's Guest Star Nixon Denton, Cincinnati Times-Star: "Jack Sutherland can't seem to remember that he no longer is coaching a college football team. . . . Asked to describe the prospects of the Brooklyn Dodgers, he asserted they were far from bright."

The record of the series between the Western All-Stars and the National football league champs hardly justify the 6-2 odds being quoted on Green Bay for Thursday's tilt. . . . Some of the smartest writers on the coast already are nominating the Texas Aggies as the eastern representative in the 1941 Rose bowl game.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Jim Eagby, Red Sox—Allowed Browns only two hits in 6 2-3 innings of relief hurling.

Carl Hubbell, Giants—Beat Cubs with fine relief pitching, shutting them out in last five frames.

Hal Trosky, Indians—Knocked in three of Cleveland's four runs with homer and single against Senators.

Bucky Walters, Reds, and Syl Johnson, Phillies—Former pitched five-hit ball and collected home run in winning first game while latter took nightcap with five-hit hurling.

Nick Strincevich, Bees—Checked Cardinals on five hits, allowing no runs until ninth.

Remember These? Last night's Pete Scalzo—Jimmy Ferrin fight show was the most elaborate New Orleans has staged since the 3-day carnival of champions held in 1892, when all this happened:

Sept. 6: George Dixon knocked out Jack Skelly in eight rounds to defend his featherweight title.

Sept. 7: James J. Corbett knocked out John L. Sullivan in 21 rounds to win the heavyweight title.

Larry French of the Cubs probably will be the next National league pitcher to crash the 200-victory circle, but this season. . . . And old Mose Grove needs only eight more wins to make it 300 in the American league.

Another For National The National league, which has been walking off with a lot of the honors this year, has added another. . . . Giants Jump On Cubs, 10-5

Cleveland Indians Edge Out Senators To Break Off 4-Game Losing Streak

By The Associated Press

The New York Giants jumped on two Chicago Cubs pitchers for 18 hits yesterday as they walloped the Bruins 10 to 5 and strengthened their hold on fourth place in the National League.

King Carl Hubbell was called in to halt a Cub rally in the fourth inning and hurled shutout ball for the rest of the game. Making his second relief appearance in three days, Hubbell was credited with his eleventh victory against seven defeats.

Vern Olsen bore the brunt of the Giants' assault before giving way to Charley Root in the fourth, when the New Yorkers tallied five runs.

In their half of the same inning, the Cubs scored four times on two hits, two errors, two walks and a hit batsman.

The Chicago White Sox-New York Yankees game at New York was rained out.

The Cleveland Indians, who once this season gained the American League lead by losing four straight, seemed in danger of dropping off their precarious perch in the throes of another four-game losing streak last weekend.

Break Losing Streak

But they stopped it yesterday by edging out the Washington Senators 4-3 while both the second-place Detroit Tigers were kept idle by rain. As the result of this opportune triumph the Indians increased their advantage over the Tigers to three games and over the third place Yanks to six.

Meanwhile the Cincinnati Reds split a double bill with the Philadelphia Phillies without harming their 7½ game advantage in the National League because the Brooklyn Dodgers also were rained out.

All of which goes to show that it isn't the short winning or losing streaks, it's the long haul that counts.

Cleveland's conquest of the Senators was made possible by Bob Feller, although he didn't get credit for the game. The fireballer went to the rescue of Mel Harder in the seventh and shutout the Senators in the last three stanzas.

Walters Wins 18th

Bucky Walters, another "sure shot," pitched and batted the Reds to a 3-2 victory in their first game, which incidentally gave the senior circuit champions a four-game winning string temporarily. He held the tailenders to five hits and batted in two of Cincinnati's own runs, one with a homer. It was Bucky's 18th win.

Sylvester Johnson, the 30-year-old combination coach and pitcher for the Phils, then retaliated in the nightcap with a 3-hit performance that left the Reds gasping. They had made only eight blows off the Phillies' pitching in the first game.

Jim Bagby's fine relief pitching helped the Boston Red Sox to a 7-6 decision over the St. Louis Browns. He allowed only two hits in the last six 2-3 innings. Manager Jock Connelley produced three runs with a double and a single.

The Boston Bees threw more water on the St. Louis Cardinals' conflagration by winning a night game 3-1 with rookie Nick Strincevich hurling 5-hit ball. That's all the Bees obtained, too, but the Cards contributed three errors.

Pigeons Await First Practice

Marion—The Marion High school Pigeons will start training for the 1940 football season the latter part of this week. Coach Foley announced today. The coach asked all players to obtain their W. I. A. cards and have them filled out so there will be no delays.

Coach Foley will build his team around the three boys who made the second all-conference team last year. Will Wiseman at center, Adams at fullback and Willing at end. Other lettermen who will be on hand to start the season are Brunner, Petta, Olson, Lambert, Lindell,

SHOOTING for SPORT

By PHIL R. MILLER
National Shooting Ace

LEARNING TO SHOOT (Third in a Series)

There are three important fundamentals in mastering shooting; the correct positions of the hands and feet; following through with the gun barrel as the gun is fired; and complete concentration while at the shooting positions. Master these fundamentals first and you'll avoid a lot of later headaches. Hold the gun naturally, with as little tension as possible. You'll find that keeping calm, with muscles relaxed, will make it much easier to learn the sport. In skeet, the gun stock must show below the elbow until the shooter calls "pull," signal for the trap puller to release the target. The marksman should lean slightly forward shoulders to the front and hips held back. Weight should be on the left foot, knee slightly bent. The right leg should be rigid. Spread the feet naturally, the toe of the right foot about even with the ball of the left foot. The sooner the marksman perfects his stance and form the sooner he will become proficient.

2 A.A. Pilots May Move Up

Managers of Millers And Blues are Likely Big League Material

By The Associated Press

Mike Kelley, venerable owner of the Minneapolis American association club, has said repeatedly that his own manager, Tom Sheehan, and Kansas City's pilot, Billy Meyer, are as good as any in the business.

Apparently several other baseball-wise owners hold the same view as Kelley, who has spent a lifetime as player, manager and owner.

Both Sheehan and Meyer were mentioned a year ago as big league managerial talent, and the same talk again is going the rounds. Pittsburgh was interested in Sheehan a year ago when the front office decided to supplant Pie Traynor.

Current reports indicate Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, would like to have Sheehan for 1941 and Meyer has been mentioned repeatedly as a possibility to take over the reins of the Chicago Cubs.

May Not Be Interested

Whether either would be interested in moving up is a question. Sheehan said last year he would rather pilot the Millers under Kelley than take a big league job at considerably more money. Meyer doubtless would think a long time before severing his connections with the rich and prosperous Yankee organization.

Attention has been concentrated on Sheehan and Meyer because they produced aggressive, smart teams in the association race. The Blues now are in first place by six games and Minneapolis, no worse than second most of the year, is a half game behind Columbus, which recently took over the runner-up spot.

Four doubleheaders were on tap today or tonight after rain washed out Monday's program of one doubleheader and three single games.

Par Takes Beating As Stars Go After PGA Championship

Hershey, Pa.—The professionals demonstrated again today with the chips really down—that there's something wacky about par being the mythical perfect score in golf.

The field of 120 of the best shot-makers in the business moved into the second 18-hole qualifying round for the P. G. A. championship, spraying a rain-soaked, long and exacting course with birdies and eagles.

Just a peg behind Metz at 70 were Ralph Guldahl, who never has had any success in this tournament though twice open champion, Jug McSpaden and Johnny Gibson, 29-year-old assistant pro from Chicago.

At 71 were the always-tough Jimmy Demaret, Jimmy Hines, Ky Laffoon and Paul Runyan. Stretched out behind were all the big names of the game. Sixty nine shot no higher than 76.

Detroit—Pat Comiskey, 206, Paterson, N. J., knocked out Johnny McCarthy, 195, Chicago (2).

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, SR.

New York—The United States Golf association took all the international flavor and a lot of the interest out of the 1940 national amateur championship by ruling out Jim Ferrier yesterday, but there still are enough good golfers left to make a whale of a tournament out of today's sectional qualifying spree.

Counting out Ferrier and the 10 former champions who don't have to play in the sectional rounds, 747 players remain on the list. After today's 36-hole tests in 28 locations, only 140 of them will remain to go into the championship tourney at New York's Winged Foot club Sept. 9-14. Obviously, they'll have to play a lot of good golf to win out against such odds.

The last-minute disqualification of Ferrier, amateur and open champion of Australia, was as bewildering to the fans who figured he had a good chance of winning as it was to Jim himself. It was based upon the publication in Australia of a "profusely illustrated book" called "Jim Ferrier's Golf Shots."

The U.S.G.A. contention is that it was a book of instruction and as Ferrier receives royalties from it, that makes him ineligible under the U.S.G.A. amateur rule. Ferrier argues the book merely analyzes his own unorthodox style without trying to tell other golfers how to play.

With Ferrier out, the leading candidates for the title seem to be the 10 exempt players—Marvin (Bud) Ward, the 1939 winner; Willie Turnesa, Johnny Goodman, Johnny Fischer, George T. Dunlap, Jess Sweetser, Francis Ouimet, Max Marston, Jesse Guilford and Chick Evans.

Chicago—A field of 73 golfers, each seeking a berth in the national amateur tournament next month, was entered in today's 36-hole qualifying test over the Flossmoor Country club course.

The low 15 scorers will earn a spot in the tourney proper, which begins Sept. 9 at Winged Foot club, Mamaroneck, N. Y.

The qualifying field included Jim Frisna, Taylorville, Ill.; Dr. G. R. Love, Oconomowoc, Wis.; Art Andrews, Jr., Peoria, Ill.; Tupper Allen, Kenosha, Wis.; Gus Moreland, Peoria; Richard Durkes, Rockford, Ill.; Thomas Draper, St. Louis; Rollin Taylor, Groesbe, Ill.; Frank Weiland, Indianapolis; Francis Cox, Terre Haute, Ind.; Gordon Kummer, Milwaukee.

Abundance of Good First Year Baseballers Makes Choices Tough for All-Star Positions

BY DILLON GRAHAM

New York—Every major league club shared in the bountiful rookie harvest this year and each can offer a candidate for All-Star rookie team selections.

Cleveland came up with a pair of aces, Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack, who are driving the Indians toward an American league pennant. Brooklyn brought up the most ballyhooed recruit—Harold (Pee Wee) Reese—and he more than lived up to his advance billing, in contrast to the failure of the advertised Fred Hutchinson of Detroit a year ago.

The Boston Bees surprised with Carvel Rowell, who paced National league batters in mid-August.

Here it is Considering hitting, fielding, runs batted in, speed and all-round value to their teams, here is my idea of 1940's All-Star rookie squad:

First Base—Norman (Babe) Young, Giants.

Second Base—Ray Mack, Indians.

Third Base—Bob Kennedy, White Sox.

Shortstop—Lou Boudreau, Indians.

Center Field—Dom DiMaggio, Red Sox.

Right Field—Bill Nicholson, Cubs.

Utility—Hal Reese, Dodgers.

Utility—Frank Gustine, Pirates.

Pitcher—Sid Hudson, Senators.

Pitcher—Vern Olsen, Cubs.

There can be little argument about the choice of Young at first base and Kennedy at third. Young has helped tighten the Giants' defense and has also been one of their top thumpers with a mid-August average of around .300. Kennedy's hitting fell off during the summer but his fielding has been good and some say he has the strongest arm of any third baseman.

There are three strong second base contenders. Rowell has out-hit Gustine and Mack and for a stretch led his league. However, he isn't as much of a distance knocker as the others. And both Mack and Gustine have driven in more runs. Rowell isn't as adept a fielder as the others although he is better at making double plays. Mack's all round ability along with his value to a pennant contending team, rates him slightly ahead in our book. Gustine and Rowell are too good to be left off any selection and are named as utility men. Rowell can serve as a flycatcher, too, for he came up to the Bees as an outfielder.

Shortstop also presents an argument with Joe Orenego of the Cardinals only a step behind Boudreau and Reese. Reese is generally accepted around the circuit as a better fielder than Boudreau and would bring more in the open market. But Boudreau gets our nod for these reasons: He has played the full season, while Reese was out of many early games, on the sidelines for several weeks after being hit on the head and likely out for the rest of the season following an injury in August. Lou has out-hit Reese by many points, driven in more runs and has meant more to his team than Reese, particularly

Perhaps the only objection to DiMaggio's nomination would be that he has not played the full season. However, he has the highest batting average and appears a better, faster fielder than the others.

Chet Ross came up unheralded and turned out to be one of the finds of the year. Nicholson, like Boudreau and Mack, played quite a few games last year but this season is his first full campaign and entitles him to rookie consideration. He is hitting over .300 and has batted in upwards of 70 runs. Others who vary very close to this trio are Maurice Van Robays and Bob Elliott of Pittsburgh, Walt Judnich of the St. Louis Browns and Cincinnati's Mike McCormick.

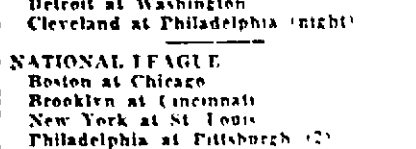

Washington's Hudson, a lean, lank right hander, tops the pitchers. Olsen of the Cubs, a southpaw, is perhaps the National league's best. Hal Newhouse and John Gorsica of Detroit, Herb Hash of the Boston Red Sox and Marvin Breuer of the Yankees are others.

Canadeo Whips Pate in Windup

Victory May be Last in Amateur Ring for 'Savvy'

Green Bay—Savior Canadeo, thrusting home three telling punches to every two of Tony Pate's Monday night won what may be his last amateur fight—the five round windup of a six bout D. A. V. card here.

Canadeo, of Chicago, weighed 147, the Milwaukee Negro 145.

In the semiwindup, Del Rafferty, 135, Milwaukee Negro, took a five round decision from Ernie Wilson, 133, Chicago.

James Jordan, 137½, Milwaukee Negro, lost a decision to Al Jackson, 137 pound Chicago Negro, in three rounds.

Sue Hawkins, 116, Chicago, turned almost certain defeat into victory, a lucky jab kayonged Ted Johnson, 116, West Allis, midway in the second frame.

Torry Ahlbeck, 133, Chicago, defeated Don Wolfenfang, 135½, West Allis, in three rounds.

Marshall Makes No Bones About Success of Redskins

Spokane, Wash.—George Preston Marshall, president of the Washington Redskins, doesn't stop at going out on a limb to predict success for his team in the National football league. He fastens an extension ladder to the limb and makes his way confidently to the last rung.

Marshall's prophecy this year is that the Redskins will win the Eastern division title. That is worthy of special note because last year he declared: "The team that beats the Redskins will win the Eastern and the league championship." He was 100 per cent right for the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants beat his club and then fought it out in the playoff for the title.

The more conservative Coach Ray Flaherty merely states: "We will be at least as strong as in 1939." But various other observers who accompanied the Redskins on their 7,229 mile training jaunt are inclined to share Marshall's optimism. They see in the squad of 45 players a wealth of experienced material, to which have been added several very promising newcomers, a great competitive spirit and fine physical condition.

All but two of last year's squad—Jim Karcher and Keith Birklen—are back on the job. Max Krause and Don Irwin, veteran backs who were placed on the retired list after suffering injuries, are in good condition. The other veterans include Slingin' Sammy Baugh and Frank Filchock, the forward, passing ex-pers; Andy Farkas, holder of the league record for the most touchdowns scored in one season; Jim Barber, all-league tackle; Wayne Millner, Charlie Malone, Bob Masterson and Bob McChesney, a quartet of reliable ends; Erny Pinkert, a member of the original Redskins of 1932, and big Turk Edwards, who will serve in his ninth big-league season both as a player and an assistant coach.

Most notable among the 15 rookies are Bob Hoffman, a great blocking back from Southern California who backs up a line with accuracy and power; Willard (Bolo) Perdue, a punt-blocking end from Duke; Steve Andracko of Ohio State and Bob Tichenor of San Jose State, a couple of smart, fast centers; and Roy Zimmerman of San Jose State, Bob Seymour of Oklahoma and Ray Harg of Gonzaga, who apparently can do everything required of big-league backs and perhaps a bit more.

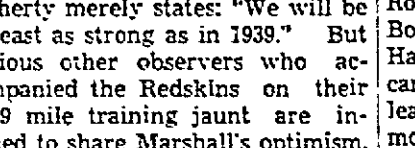

K. of C. Bowlers Map Season Plans

Plans for the 1940-41 season were discussed by Knights of Columbus league bowlers at the Catholic home last night and another meeting to complete organization of the circuit has been called for Monday evening, Sept. 9. A proposal for uniformly colored shirts and the effect of a price increase at Elks alleys were considered.

PREPARING POTATOES

Potatoes probably are the most frequent appearing meal-time food aside from bread and butter. Sometimes it seems as though the ways in which to prepare this staple vegetable are few. But potatoes needn't forever continue a round of boil, mash and fry, bake and cream. There are a dozen variations for every one of the common-places methods of serving them. Potatoes needn't ever be served monotonously.

Let's start off with just a few of the countless ways of preparing potatoes interestingly.

Twice Baked Potatoes
When baked potatoes are done, cut each potato in 2 halves lengthwise. With a spoon scoop out the potato being careful not to break the shell. Put through a ricer. Add butter, salt and pepper and hot milk. Beat with a spoon until fluffy and creamy. Pile this mashed potato back in the shells. Do not smooth the top. Lay on a pan and return to the oven until delicately browned and heated through. If they do not brown, place under broiler for a minute or so. Sprinkle with paprika.

Scalloped Potatoes
6 medium-sized potatoes
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons butter
Hot milk
Salt and pepper
Peel and slice uncooked potatoes thin. Place a layer of slices on bottom of buttered casserole or baking dish. Sprinkle a tablespoon of flour over top and dot with butter. Add salt and pepper. Continue until all potatoes are used, making 3 layers in all. Pour in enough hot milk to just barely cover the top layer. Place casserole in a moderate oven and bake 1 to 1 1/2 hours. This will make 8 servings.

Potatoes Au Gratin
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
3 cups cooled boiled potatoes
1 cup strong American cheese grated
Salt and pepper
Melt butter over a low fire, blend in flour and gradually add milk. Add 1 cup cheese, salt and pepper. Combine with potatoes cut in small cubes. Place in shallow baking dish and sprinkle paprika and 1 cup of the cheese over the top. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven. 250 Degrees F.

Shoe String Potatoes
Cut peeled potatoes into 1-inch slices, then into 1-inch strips. Let stand 1 hour in cold water. Drain and dry. Fry a few at a time in deep, hot fat until crisp and slightly brown. Drain and sprinkle with salt.

Duchesse Potatoes
Take freshly boiled and mashed potatoes or some that are left over, add beaten yolk of 1 egg, form in balls or flat cakes, place in a greased tin and brush with the beaten egg white and brown in oven.

Children Make Life a Lot More Worth Living

BY ANGELO PATRI

Living with children can be a great pleasure. They rarely bore one because they change so from hour to hour, sometimes from minute to minute. And they do astonishing things—sometimes they are funny and know it, and sometimes they are so without knowing it. Other times they are heroic, sacrificing, laboring, achieving miracles of growth in the face of tremendous obstacles.

Di was about to be graduated and clothes for the great occasion were a problem. There are too many children in the family for the income to allow any special like graduating suits and their trimmings.

Just when things looked blackest for Di's suit a visitor to the shop noticed a woodcarving of an old woman, beautifully done. It was Di's recreation job done with loving care in his odd moments. The visitor asked to buy it and offered the price of a suit and a bit more.

"Delighted," said Di when he made the sale.

We thought he was all set for graduation now. But we had reckoned without Di.

For Sister's Sake

"I can't come to graduation," he said.

"Why not? What's the matter?"

"Nothing. I don't want to come."

Of course, that was sheer nonsense but there was nothing to do but wait until Miss Lulu could talk him into telling the story. Little sister was to be confirmed and she had to have a dress and veil and flowers and lots of things so he gave his mother the money for Camilla's great occasion.

Something had to be done. "We'll lend you the money. You can pay it back when you get a job."

"No. I can't get into debt for a suit. Don't bother. I'm all right."

Miss Lulu thought a while, then went out to see her brother who had suits of clothes to spare. Sure enough he had one that he had never worn. Just the thing for Di. Fitted exactly.

Mamma from Heaven

Di looked at the things in the suitcase with shining eyes. He tried on the suit, the shoes and the tie. Just right. Then he shook his head incredulously. "I don't see how she knew the sizes. I forgot to tell her."

"Tell whom?" asked Miss Lulu, puzzled by all this.

"The Holy Mother. I explained to her in my prayer about the things I needed but I forgot to tell her the sizes and she got them dead right. Thanks so much, Miss Lulu. I'll never forget your kindness to me. Never."

We didn't know whether to laugh or to cry, so we did both. Now if you, a stranger, had seen Di in his worn sneakers, his drab jersey and cheap cotton trousers washed of all color, seen him on the street going about his errands, you would not have given him a second look, which would have been too bad for you and Di.

You never can tell what is inside a boy until you stay with him, know him intimately, live with him. Then he is real fun, a great joy and an inspiration. Even the ill-behaved ones, the noisy ones, the dirty-faced ones are well worth getting acquainted with. Do try it.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

My Neighbor Says—

Darwin tulips are supposed to bloom a little later than the cottage tulips, though both kinds are often found in flower at the same time. The large flowered tulips are best, planted four or five inches deep and a little sand should be run in holes in which they are planted.

Have you ever tried combining clams and corn? The flavors go especially well together and are delicious made into soups, stews, croquettes or cakes (mixed with mashed potatoes and deep fried).

To cook dried prunes, wash them well, cover with four inches of cold water and let soak over night. Simmer very slowly for one hour.

Beauty and You

FOUNDATION CREAM—The texture and coloring of foundation cream is vastly important. Both should be keyed to specific skin type.

Sallow skin is nature's way of telling a woman that all is not well with her physically. When one is enjoying normal health, both mentally and physically, one's skin has a fleshy or pink cast and is firm and clear. When health is impaired, either by worrying too much, or by some physical maladjustment, the skin is robbed of its normal, healthy coloring and appears sallow.

Improper elimination caused by an unbalanced diet, or sluggish circulation, caused by insufficient exercise, will cause a sallow complexion. Nervous indigestion, which is frequently a companion of worry, is another possible cause. These ailments must be remedied at their source before the skin can regain its normal loveliness.

How to Conquer Condition

If a woman begins at the beginning she can bring new beauty to sallow skin. First, she must establish daily, regular and complete elimination through methods other than resorting to a drug. She should schedule her days and nights so there is regularity in meal hours and in sleeping hours. She must learn which foods aid in correcting constipation. Among these are stewed figs, applesauce, raw apples, bran in cereal form, a mixture of prune juice with a citrus juice, mixed green salads well chewed, lemon juice taken in hot water upon arising, and steamed cooked leafy vegetables taken at mealtime.

Next she must exercise and sun her body. If she lacks the energy to concentrate on specific callisthenics at home (lethargy is likely to be experienced if the skin is sallow), she can turn on the radio and dance about the room, bending, twisting, leaping, tapping or other wise swinging arms and legs about. If she is a housewife and her blankets and small rugs need airing, she should take them out to a clothesline and beat them rhythmically. Doing any chore which will bring into action most of the muscles of the body is helpful. One of the screen's favorite actresses actually cleans her own home once a week for the joy of the physical activity it gives her! Any woman can find some excuse for giving her body a needed workout every day.

At least for one half hour each day, she should get out under the sun if it is shining. She can take a sun bath, scantily clad or if that is impossible, go out without a hat and in as loose clothing as possible. Then sit or lie in the sun for a half hour or longer. A plant does not grow to a healthy color if kept in the shaded cellar—neither will the skin grow to a healthy color if it does not get fresh air and sunshine.

To Create Illusion

To improve the appearance of a sallow skin while reconditioning the body, a tinted foundation may be used under make-up.

Several houses offer richly tinted foundation creams but a good one may be mixed at home. To a bit of white foundation cream, add several drops of liquid rouge and stir it well. The amount of rouge used in the cream will depend upon the tone of your skin. A yellowish skin will require more rouge than one which appears only slightly drab.

It is better to mix the cosmetic freshly each day, using an orange stick, and apply it to thoroughly washed skin. Over use make-up which is flattering in shades—a pinkish-lavender powder, a rouge and lipstick best suited to skin coloring.

Case Records of a Psychologist

By Dr. George W. Crane

Psychologist, Northwestern University

Many times I have taken shy, introverted sheep like Harold and changed them into self-confident, dominant lions. Since courage is simply a matter of habit, you can change yourself into a positive, dynamic personality just by forcing yourself each day to do some minor act that previously terrified you. Assurance will gradually develop, and ultimately you will walk and talk and act like a new individual.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE R-156: Harold H., aged 23, is a shy bookkeeper in a bank.

"I am in love with a wonderful girl," he said, but blushed furiously at his own confession.

"We seem to have mutual interests, and she is very fond of me. But she will not become engaged to me. She says I don't have any faults, and she likes me, but she just refuses to accept my ring."

"Dr. Crane, she doesn't love anybody else. What can I do?"

DIAGNOSIS:

Harold's difficulty is chiefly his timidity and shyness. These are popularly regarded as feminine characteristics, so he appears somewhat sissy to his girl friend.

She hadn't said so, nor had she even consciously analyzed his real personality defect. She just knew that she didn't feel like marrying him, although he had far more virtues than the average man possesses.

But everybody can get over timidity and social shyness if he has courage and perseverance. Some of the greatest leaders of society were originally wallflowers. Moses and Demosthenes were in this group.

I asked Harold if he loved his sweetheart enough to undergo danger and suffering to win her. He said he would do anything I told him to do.

Courage Is A Habit

The development of courage simply involves forcing yourself to do something each day which is fraught with some fear. It means you must perform some act which involves stage fright or the shedding of "cold" sweat, for the latter means you are plunging out of your depth, so to speak. You are leaving the beaten pathways of your previous habits, and are forcing yourself to learn new habits. "Cold" sweat usually indicates that you are acquiring new experience. It is a wholesome sign of growth or advancement.

Since Harold was not a very good conversationalist and seemed so wallflowerish as to appear almost effeminate, I recommend that he make a drastic change and try sales work.

I didn't expect him to follow the latter as a lifetime occupation, but 6 months of it would make a new man of him. He was fearful of the thought, but I promised to encourage him along the way.

Harold's New Adventure

I had him take my evening course at the university in advertising and selling so he would be surrounded by other salesmen, and thus be able to bolster up his morale by hearing their experiences.

The first day on the new job he nearly died of fright. He admitted walking around the block 11 times before he got up nerve enough to approach his first prospect. And then he grew so confused, he couldn't remember his sales talk.

But he whipped himself along, and at least went through the motions. He admitted that one day of sales work was harder than a month on his old job.

Gradually, however, he grew more and more accustomed to meeting prospects. An occasional sale also helped buoy up his morale. Meanwhile, his personality began to change. From a shy, introverted bookkeeper, he became more sociable.

As he learned that he could motivate people, his self-confidence likewise rose. He even walked with more assurance. His voice also sounded more positive and dominant.

And he found that he could phrase compliments for his sweetheart much more easily, so he didn't feel abashed in her presence. At the end of six months he was still only a fair salesman but he had "high pressure," his girl friend into accepting the ring and setting their marriage date.

Let Useless Cards Go or Take Penalty

Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson
One of the worst defensive errors is to hold on to a card that cannot be valuable and which may turn into an actual liability. East, in today's hand, was a bit late in discovering the soundness of that philosophy.

West made his normal opening, the diamond jack, top of an incomplete sequence. Declarer found himself in somewhat of a dilemma on the first trick. The best defense against the adverse diamond suit was to concede the first trick. This would break communications between the East and West hands if the club honors were divided and the diamond suit were five cards long. (If diamonds were divided, four-three, they could not threaten the contract.) But, as against this desirable action, there was the great danger that the defenders, if permitted to hold the first trick, would shift to hearts and inevitably establish two tricks for themselves in that suit before losing their club controls. Hence, as the lesser of two evils, declarer won the opening lead with dummy's king and started the club suit. East made a good play by jumping up with the club ace (to preserve his partner's club entry), but, unfortunately for his side, his diamond return was fruitless. This was because, on the first trick, East had frugally followed suit with the six spot and now had only the diamond queen.

When he laid down that card, declarer took the precaution of presenting him with the trick. Now, with one club honor driven out, declarer no longer had to fear a heart shift.

Obviously, it made little difference what East played after having been made the highly embarrassing present of the diamond queen. He selected a heart. Declarer won, drove out the king, and claimed the balance. Result, four no trump.

There would have been quite a different outcome if East had known what to do with his diamond queen. That redundant card should have been played on the first trick, under the diamond king. Then, on the first club lead, it would have done East some real good to dash up with the club ace and return a diamond. Now, West would be able to accomplish his diamond suit whether or not declarer held up the ace, and the club king would remain West's entry for the cashing of the diamonds. Result, down one.

Good Taste Today

LEMON WITH TEA

If the lemon is sliced and it is put directly into the tea, the tea is flavored by pressing the lemon with the spoon either against the side of the glass, or the bottom of the cup. But it should not be taken out of the tea—ever. If, however, the lemon is cut into quarters, moons, it may be squeezed into the fingers before being dropped into the tea—and left there. Or it could be laid on the edge of your plate or saucer if it has not been in the tea. This is in answer to the eleven-year-old girl who writes, "Some of my friends had a dispute that we would like you to settle for us. What should we do with the lemon in tea? How is it used in a hot cup, or a cold glass? And where is the lemon put after it has been used?"

When the Guest of Honor Leaves

Dear Mrs. Post: At a bridge party or a small tea given for a bride-to-be, she is the guest of honor supposed to leave the party first, or remain until every one has gone? Or doesn't it matter?

Answer: At a tea or a dance, the guest of honor always stays until every one else is gone. At a bridge party it doesn't matter when she leaves. But at a luncheon or din-

Health, Good Nature Get the Top Ratings

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—You recently gave a girl some advice on how to pick out a man who would make her a good husband. Now please tell a boy how to pick out a girl who will make him a good wife.

A FAITHFUL READER.

Dorothy Dix

Well, if I were a boy contemplating matrimony I would first try to make up my mind about what kind of a wife I wanted. Not every man needs or desires the same type of wife any more than he does the same type of automobile. If your heart was set on a streamlined sports car you wouldn't care for a truck, no matter how good it was. Nor, if you needed the truck, would the sports car be of any service to you. Same way with wives. So before you pop the question decide just what qualities you want in a wife, for girls don't change after marriage. They are just what they always were, only more so. Also, a man's happiness in marriage doesn't depend on what she is. It depends on his having got what he wants in a wife. Wives are purely a matter of personal taste.

There are, however, certain basic things that a man does well to observe when he goes wife-hunting. First of these, I think, is health. Choose a girl who is well and strong and who looks as if she could pull her own weight in the boat. Sticky wives are almost invariably peevish and fretful and hard to get along with. Also expensive.

Good Disposition Essential

Then consider the girl's disposition. If she is high-tempered, leave her for a better man, Gunga Din. If she is hard to get along with before marriage, she will be a hundred times harder to get along with after marriage. If she is fault-finding and hard to please, you will spend the balance of your life cringing before her if you give her the legal right to tell you of your faults. And if she is bossy, pass her up or she will henpeck you to death.

Pick out a girl who is good-natured and easy to get along with. Choose one whose laugh is hung on a hair-trigger and who can always make the best of everything and see the sunny side of life. She will make a joke of your faults instead of a tragedy and keep you bucked up when you are downhearted.

Choose a girl who has domestic tastes and who knows how to cook. When you marry, you put your digestion and your life in your wife's hands and the way she feeds you determines whether you will be a wreck at 40 or going strong at 60.

No man can be happy in a home that is unlovely and where he is set down to ill-cooked meals and where half he makes goes into the garbage pail. So pick out for a wife a girl who likes to eat and who thinks that cooking is a fine art and making a home a career instead of a chore.

Generosity Important

Pick out a wife who likes to do the same things that you do, who enjoys the same sports, who is interested in the same books, who likes the same kind of people. Generosity is the one indispensable thing in marriage. Half of the divorces are the result of husbands wanting to go one way and wives the other.

Marry a girl in your own class.

Dear Miss Dix—I have been married for 25 years and have given my life to my husband and two children. I have had no outside interests or pleasures. Now my children are both grown and gone about the business of life for themselves and my husband and I are left alone. I could be perfectly happy, except that he has taken it into his head that because I do not make a fuss over him all the time and act romantic that I do not care for him. He will pout and sulk for days at a time because I don't tell him how much I love him and how great and handsome he is. He has been a wonderful husband and I am devoted to him but it does look as if he might understand that after a husband and wife live together for 25 years in harmony there is such a deep feeling and understanding between them that it doesn't need to be always put into words. How should I handle this problem?

WORRIED SALLY.

Strange Embrace

This is not our story—Adam's and mine. But things happen as they happen, and the smallest thing can sometimes determine the course of vital events. Because Adam left for New York on Monday, I was to find myself tangled in tragedy, holding clues I did not recognize, information I could bring myself to divulge; was to escape losing my ner she always leaves first. At a formal dinner this rule is so strictly enforced that many an absent-minded dowager or celebrity has been known to keep a dinner party waiting for an hour or more for her to remember to make the move to leave.

Sympathy of Friends Must Be Acknowledged

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to acknowledge the cards and notes sent to our family during our recent bereavement? We have written to the people who sent flowers, but there are a good many of these other messages, and I don't want my mother to attempt to go through the list unless it would be considered unforgetfully rude not to.

Answer: There is no hurry about thanking any one, nor is it necessary that your mother herself write very short notes for her saying, "Mother asks me to thank you for all your sympathy," or "Thank you for your beautiful letter which Mother greatly appreciated." Or on your mother's card a message by her (or even by you for her saying, "Thank you for all your kindness," or "Thank you for your sympathy." Nothing longer than this is necessary—ever.

Will He Expect to Stay at Her House?

Dear Mrs. Post: If a girl writes to a man to invite him to come from out of town to a dance being given by a club she belongs to, could there be a chance that such an invitation would imply that he is expected to stay at her house? And what could she write in the letter that would be sure to remove any misunderstanding on this score? Answer: She certainly would have to tell him that he can stay at the Mansion House—or whatever it may be. If she doesn't say anything about where he is to go, he will undoubtedly expect to stay at her house.

Junior-Miss

BY ANNE ADAMS

When leaves begin to fall and the air turns brisk it's back to trim, tailored wool dresses! Anne Adams has designed Pattern 4542 as a perfect "first autumn dress." Highlights of fashion are those pointed side-front bodice sections that give a molded long-waisted look. The skirt is nicely flared; the narrow bodice panel forms one easy piece with the center-front skirt panel. Other youthful touches are a back buttoning, a prim little collar that may contrast, and an optional ribbon-bow and button trim. You may choose between long, three-quarter and short sleeves. Here's a novel idea: let the side bodice sections and the sleeves be in gay contrast!

Pattern 4542 is available in junior miss sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18. Size 13 takes 2 1/2 yards 54 inch fabric.

If he craves flattery, dish it out to him.

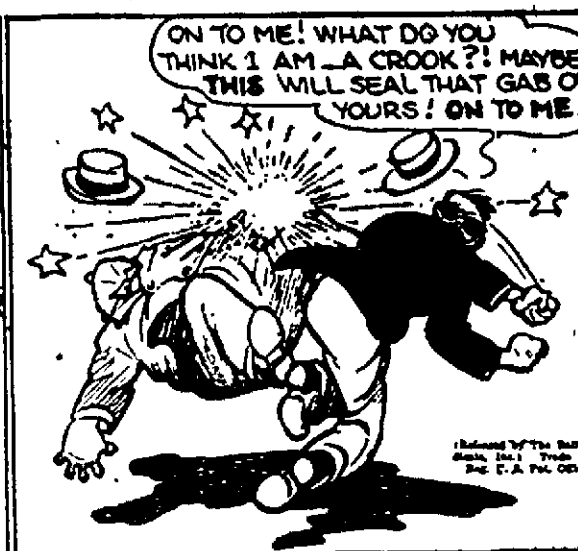

If he wants you to coquet with him a bit, drag the technique of your courting days out of the hair trunk in the attic, or understudy the line that the debs are handing out to the slick boys nowadays. Surely it is a little thing to do it makes your good husband happy.

The prevailing belief among wives is that the way to hold their husbands is to keep themselves young and beautiful, and to this end they spend millions of dollars having themselves fried and dyed in beauty parlors. GYPSIES

Yesterday we spoke of some of the countries which drove the gypsies outside their borders. There were others which tried the same thing, but did not meet complete success.

In 1479 a group of German law-makers proclaimed:

"With regard to the persons called gypsies, we know they are spies and scouts of the enemy of the Christian faith. We command that they shall not enter or settle in this country."

That "command" was not followed very closely. New German laws against gypsies were made between the years 1500 and 1722. In the last-named year a German count issued a special order in which he said all gypsies found in his realm were to be "shot on the spot."

There comes the question as to why these people were treated in that manner. The answer is to be found in the fact that they did not follow some of the rules of "good citizens."

False statements were made against gypsies. It was claimed that they dug up bodies of Christians, but there was little, if any, proof of that.

It was true, however, that many gypsies were in the habit of stealing. They seemed to feel there was no wrong in taking things from people not of their own group. To this day there are charges that gypsies steal things when they are able to do so.

Gypsies who traveled to Great Britain and Spain were treated somewhat better. In Great Britain they wandered about both England and Scotland. Laws against them were made by King Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth, but the wanderers were not driven back to the mainland of Europe. In 1827 a society was formed in England "to improve the condition of the gypsies."

Gypsies in Great Britain were under the rule of "kings" of their own. The last of these in England was known as "King Joseph Lee." He died in 1884.

Tar's Still Gold

Ottawa — Men still "pan" Yukon streams for gold. During the fiscal year ended March 31, production was 108,078 ounces, the Canadian Mines and Resources Department reported.

"After almost a half century of continuous operation the famous placer fields of the Klondike still have gold-bearing reserves of a magnitude that assures more years of success," the department says.

Pan, rocker and sluicing methods, however, have given way to huge electrically operated dredges. Placer operators are working over the old Klondike diggings.

Council to Act On Two Vetoes at Meeting Tonight

New Alderman Will Be Named to Succeed William Galmbacher

Kaukauna — The selection of a new alderman to succeed the late William J. Galmbacher, who died Thursday night, and action to either sustain or override the veto of Mayor William J. Gantler on the purchase of a truck chassis for the garbage collection and the wage restoration to the police and fire departments will be the main items of business at the council meeting at 7 o'clock tonight.

The council at its August 6 meeting voted 9 to 1 to purchase a truck chassis from the Gustin Chevrolet Sales, Inc., of Kaukauna for $716.50, which truck would be equipped with a garbage collection box and used to haul garbage and refuse as a municipal project.

The council at the same meeting also decided to restore to the police and fire departments the final half of a 10 per cent cut in wages they received in 1932.

These two actions were vetoed by the mayor on August 12.

The council met last Tuesday as a regular meeting but the meeting was adjourned after 15 minutes and before any action could be taken on the mayor's vetoes. The council at that meeting set tonight as the next meeting night.

Special Session

Still anxious to have his vetoes sustained, Mayor Gantler called a special meeting for last Thursday night, but only two aldermen, Jule Mertes and Edward R. Steidl, appeared. The police were sent to find the missing aldermen, but they could not be found in the 30 minute period required by law.

Another item to be discussed by the council tonight will be the approval of a float for the Labor day parade. The request for a float was turned over to the board of public works.

The council also will vote on the purchase of some property at the intersection of Green street and the new highway 41, in order to complete the straightening of Green street.

Queen of Kaukauna Sesquicentennial to Be Feted in Chicago

Kaukauna — Miss Armella Boucher, who was elected queen of the sesquicentennial left yesterday for her trip to Chicago which was given her as a bonus for winning by the sesquicentennial committee. She was accompanied by Miss Mildred Feller.

The pair will stay a week at a Michigan avenue hotel and will attend several of the night clubs and dance places in Chicago, where there presence will be announced to the dancers. She also will be the guest of a large amusement park in Chicago.

One of the highlights of the week's trip will be her attending the stage play, "Life with Father," currently running in Chicago. After the performance Miss Boucher will be introduced to Dorothy Gish, noted stage actress and star of the play, in the latter's dressing room. Photographers have been engaged to take pictures of their meeting.

Kaukauna Fans to See Packer Game

Kaukauna — Over 25 Kaukauna sports fans will watch the Green Bay Packers play the College All-Stars in the annual football game for charity at Chicago Thursday night.

Joseph LeFevre secured a section of 20 seats for the game, ordering them as soon as the Packers clinched the championship in the professional football league in their game against the New York Giants last fall.

Among those making the trip to Chicago to see the game are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeFevre, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roberts, Mrs. Eva Johnson, Abe Goldin, Glen Miller, Joe Casey, John Vandenberg, John Licht, Miss Lucille Hildebrandt, A. H. Mongin, Jr., Joseph Sadler, Sylvester Hopfensberger, Norbert Kilian, Miss Lucille Kilian, Melvin Courtney, Robert Courtney, Jerome Biesel, and Dorothy Bodde.

Veterans to Outline Plans for Dedication

Kaukauna — The Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet at 7:30 tonight at their clubhouse to discuss plans for the dedication of the remodeled building, which was formerly the Lave home, and to prepare for fall activities.

The Lions club has cancelled its meeting tonight and will meet tomorrow night with their ladies as the guests of the Rotary club at a 6:30 dinner. Frederick V. Bowers, composer and pianist, will be the speaker.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the Jules Mertes barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. William Dowling is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 107. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

HELD IN HOMICIDE INQUIRY—Mrs. Rose Pantel (left), 40, known as the "Red Rose of Williamsburg," and her daughter, Sylvia, 22, are shown after they were quizzed by District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn about a series of gong killings. The mother was held on a homicide charge. Her daughter as a material witness.

Mayor Defends Vetoes, Invites Citizens to Council Meeting

Kaukauna — A request that the citizens of Kaukauna attend the council meeting tonight was issued today by Mayor William J. Gantler. The request was made in a public letter to the taxpayers.

In his letter the mayor assailed the aldermen who moved to adjourn at the regular council meeting last Tuesday night because they lacked enough votes to override the mayor's vetoes, and who did not attend the special meeting called by the mayor for last Thursday night, as "pulling off one of the dirtiest acts in the history of the city of Kaukauna." He also described this move as a "slap in the face of the taxpayers."

Mayor Gantler described the six aldermen, Aldermen Kindler, Femal, Ludtke, Proper, Luebke, and

Oconto County Leads Freshman Enrolment With 9 New Students

Kaukauna — Fifty-five students registered at the Outagamie County Rural Normal school yesterday, Principal Walter P. Hagman announced. Classes began this morning and registrations will be continued throughout the week.

Oconto county led the field with the most new students entering the normal school. It had nine, with seven from Outagamie, five from Brown county, four from Shawano county, one from Waupaca county, and one from Calumet county.

The registration of returning students showed Outagamie county leading with 10 students and the following for the other counties: Brown 8, Waupaca 4, Oconto 3, Shawano 1, Calumet 1, and Columbia 1.

On School Roster
The new students from Outagamie county are: Ruth Despins, Kaukauna; Alice Collar, Hortonville; Mildred Arndt, route 3, Seymour; Evelyn Appleton, town of Osborn; Angela Schmidt, town of Ellington; Viola Kroll, Kaukauna; and Margaret Picard, Kaukauna.

Those students from Outagamie county who were in attendance at the rural normal school last year and are returning this year are: Elaine Oullette, Kimberly; Pearl Lopas, Combined Locks; Angeline Young, town of Bovina; Gloria Geske, Kaukauna; Mary Catherine Hatchell, Kaukauna; Mildred Noie, Kaukauna; Ruth Schroeder, town of Center; Germaine Fischer, Appleton; Mary Keller, Appleton; and Irene Kruezer, town of Greenville.

The nine new students from Oconto county are Eileen Zimmerman, Marcelle Pashouwer, Ella Hansel, Clarence Kruezer, Harold Prausa, Floyd Peterson, Marian Windev, Clarence Johnson, and Arlene Johnston. The returning students from Oconto county are Ruth Moak, Alvin Brandemacht, and Lorraine Shufelt.

The Waupaca county student who is entering the normal school for her first year is Kathleen Mulro of New London. The returning students from that county are Marguerite Roban, Lorraine Therie, Marie Rohan, and Alice Kusserow.

The five Brown county new students are Eunice Verhagen, Dolores Bichinski, Albert Matuzak, Alice Loberger, and Eleanor Morsette. Those students from Brown county who are returning are Bertha Hickey, Robert Deering, Claudia Jensen, Mildred Verhagen, Maurita Caldie, Elaine Lyons, Helen Wickman, and Shirley Croxford.

The four new students from Shawano county are Janet Anderson, Hildegarde Wunsch, Verne Packard, and Harvey Berg. Ruth Bublitz is the only one from Shawano county returning for her final year at the rural normal school.

Alvina Jancy will be the new entry from Calumet county while Imme Mitchell of that county will return to the school here. Joyce Hanson is the only student from Columbia county and she will be in her final year.

The number of students for each class was almost even, 27 students in the first year class, and 26 in the last year class.

Instruction in the rural normal school began today, while classes in the model department, which offers instruction from the first through the sixth grade will begin next week, Mr. Hazman declared.

French Don't Understand How To Drink Way Out of Trouble

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—Marshal Petain's government of France is making a bad mistake in attempting to impose a modified form of prohibition.

We tried prohibition here, and we can tell the marshal that things are much better since we learned our lesson and abandoned an experiment which, however noble in purpose, simply did not work. Since repeal our cities have blossomed with beautiful saloon signs which delight the eye, our bars are without question among the loveliest features of the American scene, and the drunkest man or woman is the most patriotic.

It has been noticed that unemployment has practically disappeared since the American people sensibly decided to drink their way out of the slough. Thousands of men and women are employed making saloon signs and keeping them repaired and providing the electricity to run them. The production of bar furniture, with its gleaming metal and red imitation leather, has given jobs to countless worthy citizens, and the manufacture of juke boxes and the service thereof have been a boon to cabinetmakers, electricians and musicians. These are only a comparative few of the vast number who would still be unemployed if the liquor traffic were not.

It has been so long since the American farmer was relieved of all his woes and raised to a position of economic security by the demand for grains for liquor and beer that we sometimes forget that back before repeal he was one of the worst problems of the nation. The woodsmen who cut the hard wood, the coopers who make the barrels, the printers who produce the beautiful labels, the glassworkers who turn out the bottles, the distillery workers and packers and shippers, the salesmen, bartenders, waiters and bussboys, and the singers who pass among the tables bursting with witty song all owe their employment to the repeal of prohibition.

Marshal Petain could have learned that the taxes received from the liquor traffic have practically abolished the debt of the country as every sane person promised they would. And on the spiritual or patriotic side he might be surprised to hear there has been a great profit in the loyal effort of every citizen to drink as much as he or she can buy or consume so as to provide employment and revenue. If a citizen knows that he is serving his country by drinking hard liquor he approaches the bar in a noble spirit, and Americans no longer look down on the souse as a degraded person. On the contrary, he is honored for a conspicuous personal contribution to the national well-being.

Sad That Old Petain Should Muff This One

A few publications have taken it on themselves to refuse to handle liquor advertisements, but it may interest Marshal Petain to know that American public opinion does not praise them for this. On the contrary, it is thought that they are refusing to co-operate in a patriotic work and sabotage recovery and are placed in the fifth column along with the communists and those who oppose, or favor, conscription. It is as though the same publications should refuse to give publicity to a government bond issue or any other project for raising of necessary revenue, and sanctimonious statements of principle do not deceive the honest and loyal American. We know what the dirty curs are up to. It is pathetic that the old marshal, in his great trial, should make this false move which not only condemns a fine industry but renounces without a fair trial a means by which France, like the United States, might be saved. The truth is, of course, as every one knows, that the French never gave liquor a chance. It often used to be said that one rarely saw a drunken Frenchman, and that, if you don't mind, was the secret of the failure. They were too stungy and too mindful of their personal comfort to spend for liquor and put up with hangovers that Americans gladly endure as a patriotic sacrifice.

The French were just too selfish. But look at the Americans, the greatest hard liquor drinkers on

3 New Instructors In Public Schools

Kaukauna — Three new teachers will be included in the public school faculty when school is resumed next Tuesday according to J. F. Cavanaugh, superintendent.

Meeting of all public school teachers will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, at the high school. The presence of all new and old teachers is required at this meeting, Mr. Cavanaugh declared.

La Rue Smith of Shawano has been hired to fill the position on the high school faculty left vacant by the resignation of James W. Lang, who has accepted a position at Loyola university at New Orleans. Smith will teach sophomore English. He is a graduate of Central State Teachers college at Stevens Point.

Miss Caroline Kauth, town of Buchanan, will be the new fifth grade teacher at the Nicolet school, replacing Miss Wilma Blechl, who resigned to accept a position in the Oshkosh public schools. Miss Kauth is a graduate of the Oshkosh Teachers college.

The third new teacher is Miss Magdalen Knapstein of New London who will be in charge of the sixth grade at the Park school. Miss Maybelle Peterson, former second grade teacher, has resigned to take a teaching position in Illinois, and Miss Ruth McAfee has been transferred from the sixth grade to the second grade.

Frederichs Speaker At Rotary Meeting

Clintonville — C. F. Frederichs, who recently moved to Clintonville from Eagle River, was a guest of the Rotary club Monday at its noon luncheon at Hotel Marson. Mr. Frederichs, who purchased the Dairyman-Gazette from A. A. Washburn, talked on the consolidation of that newspaper with the Clintonville Tribune. The merger of the two weekly news publications was accomplished soon after Mr. Frederichs' purchase. The new paper, the Clintonville Tribune-Gazette, is published every Thursday morning.

Local businessmen were instrumental in effecting the merger. The Tribune Publishing company, formerly owned by F. A. Moldenhauer, earth, rich, strong, plastered and carping and offering to lick any so-and-so in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sawyer had, as their dinner guest Sunday evening, Bill Benson of Kenosha, well-known orchestra leader who had an engagement in this community. Their dinner guests Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Laehn and children of Fond du Lac.

Frederick, Mrs. Sophie Spearbraker, Mr. and Mrs. John Spearbraker and son James, Mr. and Mrs. George Spearbraker, daughter Karen, and son Tommie, and Miss Mildred Brackob, all of Clintonville.

The oldest person attending the reunion was 69 years old and the youngest one present was two months. Next year's meeting of the Yaeger family will be held at Waukesha, an invitation having been received from the mayor, George Contz.

The circulation department of the Appleton Post-Crescent is represented in Clintonville by James Bohr, 44 Main street. Orders for subscriptions may be left with him. Subscribers missed by carriers should call Mr. Bohr, telephone 5871, before 7 p. m.

Chicagoans Unhurt In Auto Accident

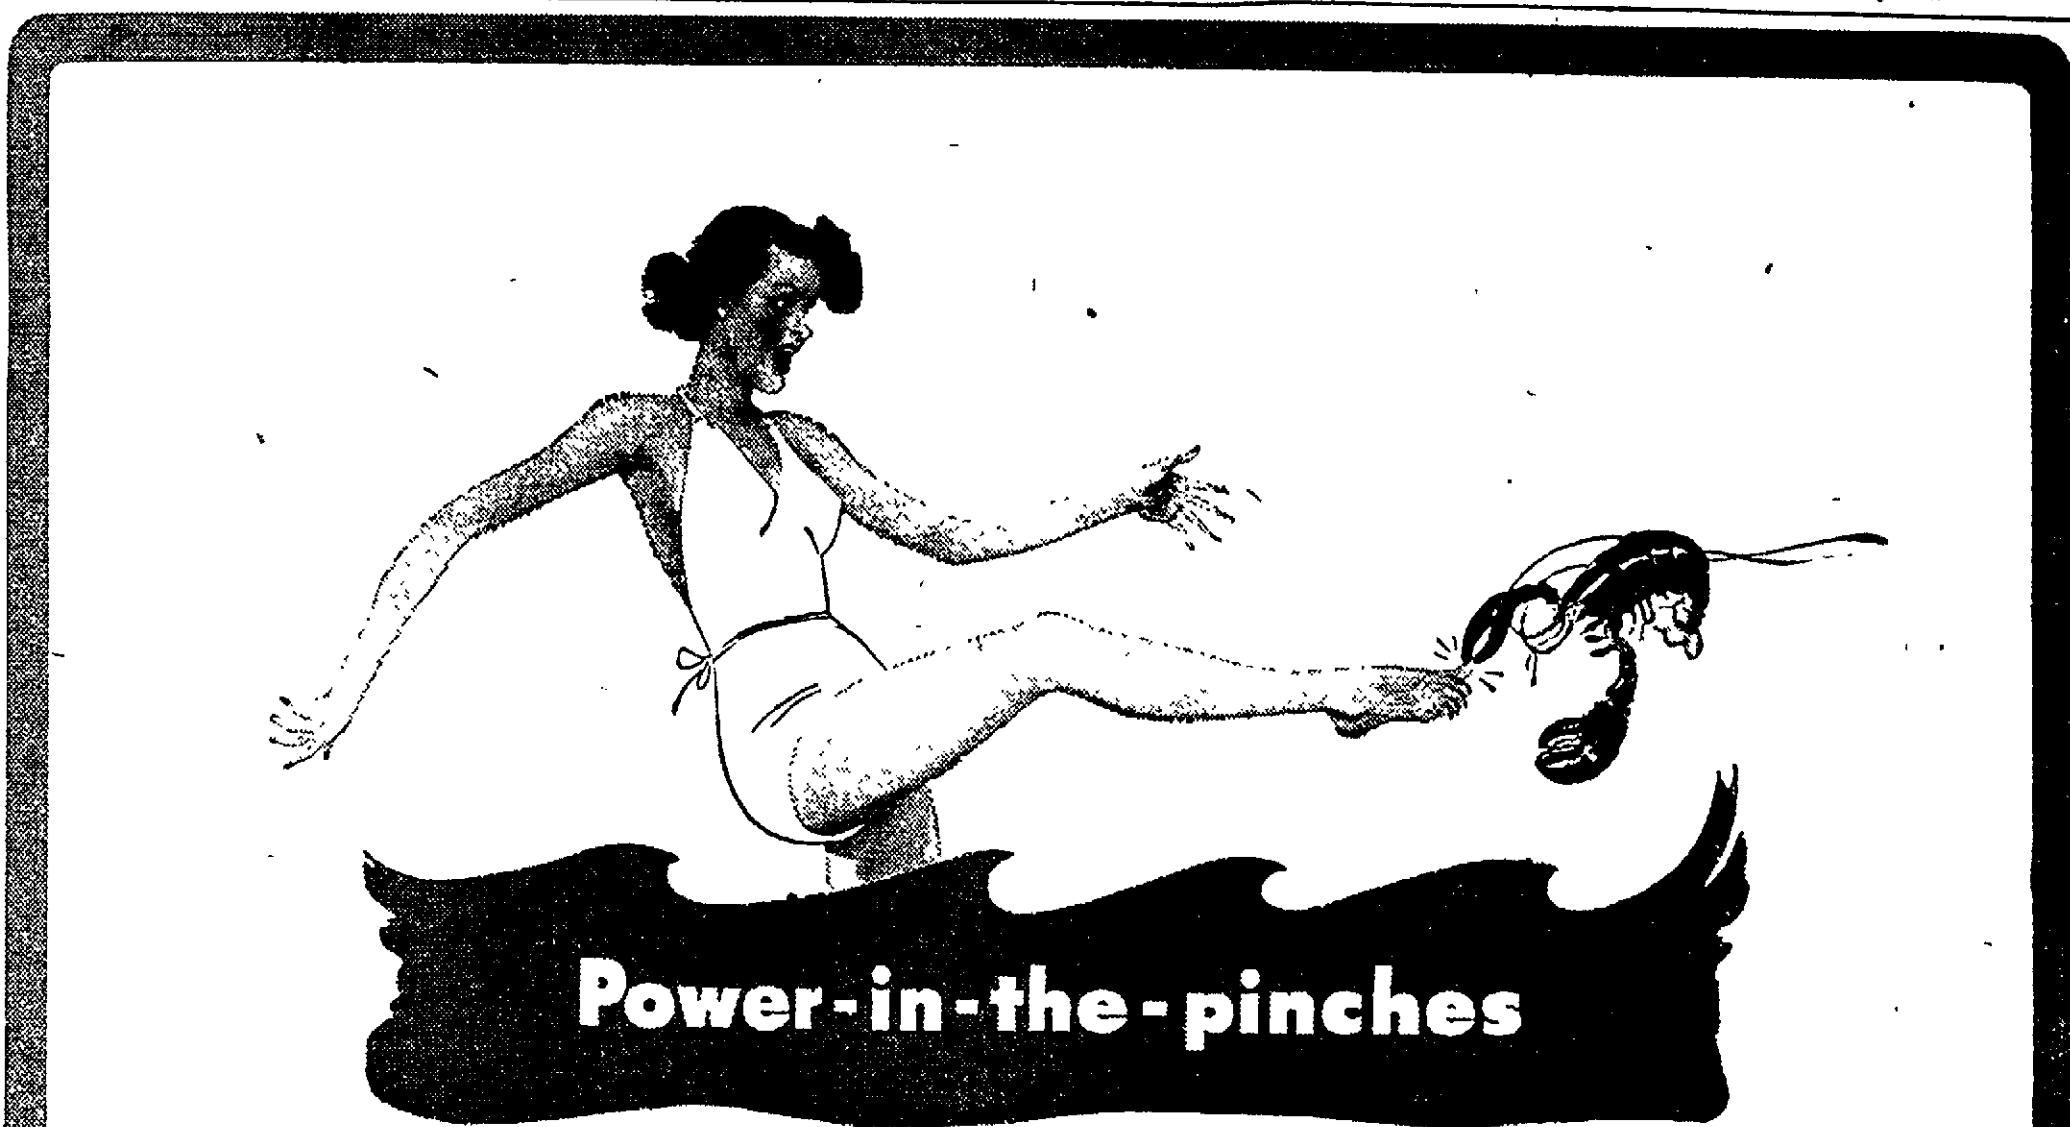

Hilbert—Frank Dallardo, a small son and daughter, and his sister-in-law, all of Chicago, were involved in an auto accident Saturday afternoon when their car left the road near the Hilbert High school and turned over three times on the west side of the street.

The occupants, who were enroute to Pembine, Wis., for a short vacation at the home of Mrs. Dallardo, parents, where she is visiting, escaped injuries and boarded a train Saturday evening for Pembine. The car was badly wrecked, with fenders crushed, windows broken and the body jammed. It is now at a local garage for repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson entertained Sunday for Miss Edith, Mentia of Ishpeming, Mich. Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Berg of Waukegan, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rytimaa, Milwaukee, and Robert Jones, Appleton.

The Bahr Construction company of Manitowish, which is laying sewerage pipes and water main for the Hilbert water works project expects to complete work here this week if weather conditions are favorable.

We're all human... we Midwesterners. So why pretend there's no thrill in the throttle when your car is powered by Red Crown? It's mighty reassuring to know that the speed you need in the pinches is there, ready for instant action.

Quick responsive power—for the sprints as well as the stretches—is one of several reasons why midwest motorists show a 2 to 1 preference for Red Crown over the second-place brand.
